

The statutory responsibilities and powers of appointed auditors are set out in the Audit Commission Act 1998. In discharging these specific statutory responsibilities and powers, auditors are required to carry out their work in accordance with the Commission's Code of Audit Practice.

Code of audit practice 2010

Local government bodies

March 2010

The Audit Commission is an independent watchdog, driving economy, efficiency and effectiveness in local public services to deliver better outcomes for everyone.

Our work across local government, health, housing, community safety and fire and rescue services means that we have a unique perspective. We promote value for money for taxpayers, auditing the £200 billion spent by 11,000 local public bodies.

As a force for improvement, we work in partnership to assess local public services and make practical recommendations for promoting a better quality of life for local people.

Preface

The role of external audit in the public sector

External audit is an essential part of the process of accountability for public money. It makes an important contribution to the stewardship of public resources and the corporate governance of public services. External auditors in the public sector give an independent opinion on public bodies' financial statements and may review, and report on, aspects of the arrangements put in place by public bodies to ensure the proper conduct of their financial affairs and to manage their performance and use of resources. Because of the special accountabilities attached to public money and the conduct of public business, external audit in the public sector is characterised by three distinct features:

- auditors are appointed independently from the bodies being audited;
- the scope of auditors' work is extended to cover not only the financial statements, but also aspects of corporate governance and arrangements to secure the economic, efficient and effective use of resources; and
- auditors may report aspects of their work to the public and other key stakeholders.

These features are consistent with the 'principles of public audit' as defined by the Public Audit Forum, which comprises all the national audit agencies in the UK.

The role of the Audit Commission

The Audit Commission (the Commission) is an independent body with statutory responsibilities to regulate the audit of local government and NHS bodies in England, and to promote improvements in the economy, efficiency and effectiveness of public services. We work with our partner inspectorates to assess local public services and make practical recommendations for promoting a better quality of life for local people.ⁱ

The Commission's responsibilities in relation to audit are:

- appointing auditors to local government and NHS bodies;
- setting the required standards for its appointed auditors; and
- regulating the quality of audits.

ⁱ Our partner inspectorates are: the Care Quality Commission; HM Inspectorate of Constabulary; HM Inspectorate of Prisons; HM Inspectorate of Probation; and Ofsted.

The Commission appoints auditors from the Commission's own staff and from private firms of auditors. It provides advice and support to auditors on technical matters and monitors their performance through a rigorous quality review process. Once appointed, auditors carry out their statutory and other responsibilities, and exercise their professional judgement, independently of the Commission.

Statutory responsibilities and powers of appointed auditors

The statutory responsibilities and powers of appointed auditors are set out in the Audit Commission Act 1998 (the Act). In discharging these specific statutory responsibilities and powers, auditors are required to carry out their work in accordance with the Commission's Code of Audit Practice (the Code).

The Code of Audit Practice

The Act requires the Commission to 'prepare, and keep under review, a Code of Audit Practice prescribing the way in which auditors [appointed by the Commission] are to carry out their functions under the Act' and which embodies 'what appears to the Commission to be the best professional practice with respect to the standards, procedures and techniques to be adopted by auditors'.

The Act also provides for the preparation of a different Code 'with respect to the audit of the accounts of health service bodies as compared with the Code applicable to the accounts of other bodies'.ⁱ

The Code must be read in conjunction with any regulations that are in force under section 27 of the Act.

The Commission is committed to keeping the Code up to date to reflect changes both in the operating environment of audited bodies and in auditing standards and practice, and may amend the Code where appropriate in the light of practical experience.

ⁱ This Code covers the audits of local government bodies. These comprise the various bodies that provide public services locally, including local authorities (and their pension funds, if applicable), fire authorities, police authorities, local councils and local probation boards and trusts. A separate Code has been prepared for the audits of NHS bodies.

The Code must be approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament at intervals of not more than five years. In the intervening period, the Code may be amended by laying proposed alterations before parliament. In addition to the Code, the Commission publishes separate documents that are aimed specifically at audited bodies and members of the public, including:

- Statement of Responsibilities of Auditors and of Audited Bodies – which highlights the different responsibilities of the auditor and the audited body, and the limits on what the auditor can reasonably be expected to do;
- Councils' Accounts: Your Rights – which sets out the rights of members of the public to inspect, and of local electors to question and object to, local government bodies' accounts, and explains the powers of the auditor; and
- How to Complain – which explains how audited bodies or members of the public can complain about the work of the Commission and its auditors.

The contents of the Code

The Code comprises five sections:

- general principles;
- auditors' responsibilities in relation to the financial statements;
- auditors' responsibilities in relation to the use of resources;
- reporting the results of audit work; and
- principles relating to the exercise of specific powers and duties of local government auditors.

Schedule 1 to the Code provides for the audit of small bodies.

The Appendix contains a glossary of terms.

Chapter 1: General principles

Status and application of the Code of Audit Practice

1 This Code of Audit Practice (the Code) has been laid before parliament under section 4 of the Audit Commission Act 1998 (the Act) and has been approved by resolution of each House of Parliament. It came into effect on 9 March 2010 and replaces the Code that has been in effect from 9 March 2005, as amended on 21 July 2008.

Scope of the Code

2 The Code prescribes the way in which auditors of local government bodies, as defined in Schedule 2 of the Act, appointed by the Audit Commission (the Commission) should carry out their functions under the Act. As with any code that attempts to cover a wide variety of circumstances, the application of the Code in any particular case will depend on the specific circumstances and on auditors' assessments of what is reasonable and appropriate in those circumstances. All the provisions of the Code are to be read and applied with that necessary qualification.

3 The Commission may wish to appoint different auditors to carry out different elements of the audit at an audited body. In such cases, auditors should apply the Code in so far as, in their judgement, it is appropriate, taking into account any relevant guidance issued by the Commission.

4 There will be circumstances in which aspects of the Code that are potentially applicable may be inappropriate to the audit of certain bodies, for example because of the nature of their business or the relatively small amounts of public money controlled by the bodies in question. In carrying out the audit of such bodies, auditors should apply the Code in so far as, in their judgement, it is appropriate, taking into account the nature of the business of the body and any relevant guidance issued by the Commission. In carrying out the audit of bodies with either annual income or annual expenditure below a specified financial threshold, auditors should apply Schedule 1 to the Code.

5 From time to time, when necessary, the Commission also issues guidance to auditors. The Commission does so under its powers under section 3(8) of the Act and Paragraph 7 of Schedule 1 to the Act, to appoint auditors and to determine their terms of appointment.

Scope of the audit and auditors' objectives

6 Because of the special accountabilities attached to public money and the conduct of public business, the scope of external audit in local government is extended to cover not only the financial statements, but also the audited body's arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources. Auditors' responsibilities in relation to the financial statements are covered by professional auditing standards and so the Code focuses more on how the wider range of functions of auditors appointed by the Commission should be carried out.

7 Auditors' principal objectives are to review and report on, to the extent required by the relevant legislation and the requirements of the Code, the audited body's:

- a. financial statements; and
- b. arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources.

8 Auditors should plan and carry out their audits to meet these audit objectives and comply with the requirements of the Code. The appointed auditor is responsible for carrying out an audit that meets these objectives.

9 Auditors do not act as a substitute for the audited body's own responsibility for putting in place proper arrangements to ensure that public business is conducted in accordance with the law and proper standards, and that public money is safeguarded and properly accounted for and used economically, efficiently and effectively.

The audit approach

10 Auditors should carry out the audit economically, efficiently and effectively, and in as timely a way as possible. In framing an audit approach to meet the objectives of the audit, they should:

- a. plan and perform the audit, on the basis of their assessment of audit risks, determining where to direct their work and to allocate resources to ensure that the audit is tailored to the circumstances of the audited body. They should obtain such information and explanations as they consider necessary to provide themselves with sufficient evidence to meet their responsibilities under statute and the Code. Auditors are not expected to review or perform detailed tests of all financial or other systems and processes or of all accounting procedures and transactions;
- b. have regard to the principle that each part of the audit needs to be viewed in the context of the whole, or integrated, audit. No one part stands alone and work in relation to one element of the audit informs work in relation to other elements;
- c. have regard to the fact that local government bodies operate and deliver their services in a range of partnerships and other forms of joint working or contracts with other public, private or third sector bodies. Auditors should therefore consider whether they need to follow public money into and across such arrangements;

- d. discuss with the audited body the need for timely and effective production of working papers and other information required for audit, so that the process can be carried out as efficiently and effectively as possible;
- e. establish effective coordination arrangements with internal audit. Auditors should seek to place maximum reliance on the work of internal audit whenever possible;
- f. cooperate with other external auditors and the Commission, and provide information to the Commission (both locally and nationally), to enable knowledge of good practice to be transferred effectively across local government and from one audited body to another;
- g. establish effective coordination arrangements, including for sharing information, with the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies and other appointed auditors, to minimise the burden of regulation on audited bodies, so far as is consistent with the discharge of auditors' responsibilities, and to make best use of overall audit and inspection resources; and
- h. adopt a constructive and positive approach wherever possible, thereby supporting and encouraging worthwhile change, while providing independent scrutiny and assurance, and fulfilling their statutory and professional responsibilities.

Integrity, objectivity and independence

11 Auditors and their staff should exercise their professional judgement and act independently of both the Commission and the audited body. Auditors, or any firm with which an auditor is associated, should not carry out work for an audited body that does not relate directly to the discharge of auditors' functions, if it would impair the auditors' independence or might give rise to a reasonable perception that their independence could be impaired.

Data security and confidentiality

12 Auditors and their staff must ensure that all data received or obtained during the audit is held securely and that all reasonable steps are taken to ensure compliance with statutory and other requirements relating to the collection, holding and disclosure of information.

Chapter 2: Auditors' responsibilities in relation to the financial statements

This section sets out how auditors fulfil the following statutory functions. References in the table are to the Audit Commission Act 1998.

Function	Statute
1 To be satisfied that the accounts comply with statutory requirements.	s5(1)(b), s5(1)(c)
2 To be satisfied that proper practices have been observed in compiling the accounts.	s5(1)(d)
3 To express an opinion on the statement of accounts.	s9(1)(b)

13 The financial statements, which comprise the published accounts of the audited body, are an essential means by which it accounts for its stewardship of the resources at its disposal and its financial performance in the use of those resources. It is the responsibility of the audited body to:

- put in place systems of internal control to ensure the regularity and lawfulness of financial transactions;
- maintain proper accounting records; and
- prepare financial statements in accordance with the relevant accounting framework.

14 The audited body is also responsible for preparing and publishing with the financial statements a statement on internal controlⁱ and a remuneration report and for preparing a whole of government accounts return. Some local government bodies publish other information, such as an annual report, alongside the financial statements.

15 At the conclusion of the audit of the accounts, auditors are required to give their opinion on the financial statements, including:

- a. whether they present fairly, or give a true and fair view of, the financial position of the audited body and its expenditure and income for the year in question;
- b. whether they have been prepared properly in accordance with the relevant accounting framework; and
- c. for local probation boards and trusts, on the regularity of their expenditure and income.ⁱⁱ

i This is known as the Annual Governance Statement for local authorities.

ii Although local probation boards and trusts are local government bodies for the purposes of this Code, they are not local authorities. In particular, local probation boards and trusts are subject to a different accounting framework from other bodies covered by this Code. Where relevant, requirements that apply specifically to local probation boards and trusts are highlighted in the Code.

16 In carrying out this responsibility, auditors should provide reasonable assurance that the financial statements:

- a. are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error;
- b. comply with statutory and other applicable requirements; and
- c. comply with all relevant requirements for accounting presentation and disclosure.

17 Auditors should review, and report on as appropriate, other information published with the financial statements, including the statement on internal control and the remuneration report.

18 In reviewing the statement on internal control, auditors should take into account the knowledge of the audited body that they gain through carrying out audit work in relation to the body's arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources.

19 Auditors should also review and report on the whole of government accounts return.

20 In carrying out their responsibilities in relation to the financial statements, auditors should comply with auditing standards currently in force, and as may be amended from time to time, and have regard to any other relevant guidance and advice issued by the Auditing Practices Board (APB), including that covering the work of auditors in relation to audited bodies' statements on internal control. Auditors should also comply with the APB's Ethical Standards currently in force, and as may be amended from time to time.

Chapter 3: Auditors' responsibilities in relation to the use of resources

This section sets out how auditors fulfil the following statutory function. References in the table are to the Audit Commission Act 1998.

Function	Statute
1 To be satisfied that proper arrangements have been made for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the use of resources.	s5(1)(e)

21 It is the responsibility of the audited body to put in place proper arrangements to secure economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources and to ensure proper stewardship and governance, and regularly to review the adequacy and effectiveness of them. Such corporate performance management and financial management arrangements form a key part of the system of internal control and comprise the arrangements for:

- planning finances effectively to deliver strategic priorities and secure sound financial health;
- having a sound understanding of costs and performance and achieving efficiencies in activities;
- reliable and timely financial reporting that meets the needs of internal users, stakeholders and local people;
- commissioning and procuring quality services and supplies that are tailored to local needs and deliver sustainable outcomes and value for money;
- producing relevant and reliable data and information to support decision making and manage performance;
- promoting and demonstrating the principles and values of good governance;
- managing risks and maintaining a sound system of internal control;
- making effective use of natural resources;
- managing assets effectively to help deliver strategic priorities and service needs; and
- planning, organising and developing the workforce effectively to support the achievement of strategic priorities.

22 The audited body is responsible for reporting on aspects of these arrangements as part of its annual statement on internal control.

Auditors' responsibilities in relation to the use of resources

23 Auditors have a responsibility to satisfy themselves that the audited body has put in place proper arrangements to secure economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources. In meeting this responsibility, auditors should review and, where appropriate, examine evidence that is relevant to the audited body's corporate performance management and financial management arrangements and report on these arrangements. In doing so, auditors must have regard to the criteria specified by the Commission.

24 Auditors' sources of assurance in discharging their responsibilities in relation to audited bodies' arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the use of resources are:

- the audited body's whole system of internal control as reported on in its statement on internal control;
- the results of the work of the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies, if the results of the work have an impact on their responsibilities;
- work specified by the Commission in support of carrying out its functions; and
- any other work that auditors consider is necessary to discharge their responsibilities.

25 Auditors should normally place reliance on the reported results of the work of the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies in relation to corporate or service performance without carrying out procedures to assess the quality of the work performed and without re-performing any of the work, except where particular circumstances or information lead them to conclude that it would not be reasonable to place reliance on such reported results.

26 In reviewing the audited body's arrangements for its use of resources, it is not part of auditors' functions to question the merits of the policies of the audited body, but auditors may examine the arrangements by which policy decisions are reached and consider the effects of the implementation of policy. The audited body is responsible for deciding whether and how to implement any recommendations made by auditors. In making any recommendations, auditors should avoid any perception that they have any role in the decision-making arrangements of the audited body.

Considerations relating to planning audit work in relation to the use of resources

27 In planning their audit work in relation to the arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the use of resources, auditors should consider and assess the significant risks of giving a wrong conclusion on these arrangements. The auditor's assessment of what is significant is a matter of professional judgement and includes consideration of both the quantitative and qualitative aspects of the item or subject matter in question. Auditors should discuss their assessment of these audit risks with the audited body.

28 Auditors' assessment of risk should reflect their consideration of the relevance and significance of the potential business risks faced by all bodies of a particular type, and other risks that apply specifically to individual audited bodies. These are the significant operational and financial risks to the achievement of the audited body's statutory functions and objectives, which apply to the audited body, and are relevant to auditors' responsibilities under the Code. Auditors should also consider the audited body's own assessment of the risks it faces and the arrangements put in place by the body to manage and address its risks. In assessing risks in relation to audited bodies' arrangements to secure economy, efficiency and effectiveness, auditors should have regard to:

- evidence gained from previous audit work, including the response of the audited body to previous audit work;
- the results of assessments of performance carried out by the Commission;
- the work of the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies; and
- relevant improvement needs, identified in discussion with the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies.

29 On the basis of their risk assessment, auditors should plan their work and decide whether to:

- highlight the risk to the audited body;
- defer any work in the light of current or planned work by the body or the Commission, its partner inspectorates and other review agencies; or
- carry out work in relation to specific risks to form a view on the adequacy of aspects of the body's stewardship and governance and corporate performance management and financial management arrangements.

30 In considering whether to carry out work in relation to a particular risk, auditors should have regard to the potential for them to contribute to improvement in the delivery of the functions of the audited body. Such work may include working with others in order to assess how well risks arising from the audited body's involvement in partnerships or other joint-working arrangements are being addressed.

Work specified by the Commission

31 The Commission may, from time to time, specify additional elements of work to be carried out by auditors so that it can fulfil its statutory functions. Work mandated by the Commission will be in addition to auditors' principal responsibilities.

Chapter 4: Reporting the results of audit work

This section sets out how auditors fulfil the following statutory functions. References in the table are to the Audit Commission Act 1998.

Function	Statute
1 To comply with the Code .	s5(2)
2 To consider whether, in the public interest, to report on any matter that comes to the attention of the auditor so that it may be considered by the body concerned or brought to the attention of the public.	s8
3 To certify the completion of the audit.	s9(1)(a)
4 To express an opinion on the statement of accounts.	s9(1)(b)
5 To consider whether a written recommendation should be made to the audited body requiring it to be considered and responded to publicly.	s11(3)

Outputs from the audit

32 The results of audit work will be reported in a range of outputs that, unless specified otherwise, should be addressed to the audited body.

33 The following outputs should be issued at key points in the audit process:

- a. audit planning document;
- b. oral and/or written reports or memoranda to officers and, where appropriate, members, on the results of, or matters arising from, specific aspects of auditors' work;
- c. a report to those charged with governance summarising the conclusions of the auditor;
- d. an audit report including the auditor's opinion on the financial statements and a conclusion on whether the audited body has put in place proper arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources;ⁱ
- e. a certificate that the audit has been completed in accordance with statutory requirements; and
- f. an annual audit letter.

ⁱ For local probation boards and trusts the opinion on the financial statements includes the auditor's opinion on the regularity of expenditure and income.

34 In addition, the following outputs, the need for which may arise at any point during the audit process, should be issued where appropriate:

- a. a report dealing with any matter that the auditor considers needs to be raised, in the public interest, under section 8 of the Act;
- b. any recommendations under section 11(3) of the Act; and
- c. information to be reported to the Commission in a specified format to enable it to carry out any of its other functions or to assist its partner inspectorates and other review agencies and the National Audit Office in carrying out their functions.

Principles of audit reporting

35 Auditors should maintain regular communications with audited bodies and ensure that emerging findings are discussed on a timely basis at the level within the audited body that auditors consider to be most appropriate.

36 All outputs from the audit should be:

- clear and succinctly expressed;
- relevant to the needs of the audited body;
- explicit when drawing conclusions and making recommendations; and
- issued promptly at the appropriate point in the audit process.

37 Auditors should report to the audited body in such a way as to enable its members or officers to understand:

- the nature and scope of the audit work;
- any significant issues arising from auditors' work;
- the nature and grounds for any concerns they have; and
- where appropriate, any action that needs to be taken by the audited body to secure improvement.

38 Auditors' recommendations, arising from their work in relation to audited bodies' arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the use of resources, should:

- be specific about what action the audited body should consider taking;
- be useful, practicable and based on an assessment of the benefits to the audited body of implementing them; and
- take account of the costs of implementation and report where these are likely to be significant.

Audit planning documents

39 Audit planning documents should set out how auditors intend to carry out their responsibilities, in the light of their assessment of risks. Auditors should explain their assessment of risks and discuss audit planning documents with those charged with governance. They should include provision for effective follow-up arrangements to review whether the audited body has properly considered any matters that have been identified previously and, where appropriate, has implemented agreed actions. Planning documents should also demonstrate explicitly how planned audit work will relate to those improvement planning priorities, relevant to the responsibilities of auditors, identified following any relevant assessments of performance by the Commission. Planning documents should be kept under review and updated as necessary.

Reports or memoranda on individual aspects of audit work

40 Auditors may report the results of, and matters arising from, specific elements or parts of the audit in reports, memoranda or properly evidenced presentations. Such reports, memoranda or presentations should be prepared and issued or delivered as soon as possible after completion of the work.

Reports to those charged with governance

41 Auditors' reports to those charged with governance should cover the full range of auditors' responsibilities under statute and the Code. However, these reports do not need to duplicate significant matters previously communicated to those charged with governance. Auditors should satisfy themselves that these reports are considered at the level within the audited body that they consider to be most appropriate.

The audit report

42 The audit report covers all the responsibilities of the auditor under section 5 of the Act. Therefore, it comprises the auditor's opinion on the financial statements and, having regard to relevant criteria, the auditor's conclusion on whether the audited body has put in place proper arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources. The audit report should also include, by exception, any report by the auditor on:

- the statement on internal control;
- any matters that prevent the auditor being satisfied that the audited body has put in place proper arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources;
- any matters reported in the public interest in the course of, or at the conclusion of, the audit;
- any recommendations made under section 11(3) of the Act; and
- the exercise of any other special powers of the auditor under the Act.

Auditors' certificates

43 Auditors are required to certify the completion of each audit. The effect of the certificate is to close the audit. This marks the point when the auditor's responsibilities in respect of the audit of the period covered by the certificate have been discharged.

44 There will be occasions when audit work in relation to the financial statements is substantially completed but the audit cannot be concluded – for example, because there are outstanding matters to be resolved arising from action or possible action under the Act. Auditors should consider issuing their audit report, including the opinion and the conclusion on whether the audited body has put in place proper arrangements for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness in its use of resources, as soon as the necessary audit work has been carried out, subject to any exception or other qualification that the auditor may need to consider.

Annual audit letters

45 The purpose of preparing and issuing annual audit letters is to communicate to the audited body and external stakeholders, including members of the public, the key issues arising from auditors' work, which auditors consider should be brought to the attention of the audited body. The annual audit letter should cover the work carried out by auditors since the previous annual audit letter was issued and matters previously reported to those charged with governance.

46 The annual audit letter should be addressed to all the members of the audited body and the auditor should ensure that all members receive a copy. Where the audited body does not arrange for distribution to all members, the auditor should make the necessary arrangements. Although some audited bodies are not subject to a statutory requirement to publish their annual audit letters, auditors should encourage these bodies to publicise the availability of the letters.

47 The auditor should issue the annual audit letter to the audited body as soon as possible after completion of the audit and, other than in exceptional circumstances, no later than a date to be specified by the Commission, following the end of the financial year to which the accounts relate.

Reports in the public interest

48 Section 8 of the Act requires that auditors should consider whether, in the public interest, they should report on any matter that comes to their attention in the course of the audit, so that it may be considered by the body concerned or brought to the attention of the public.

49 Auditors should consider whether the public interest requires any such matter to be made the subject of an immediate report rather than of a report to be made at the conclusion of the audit. An immediate report should be made where auditors consider a matter is sufficiently important to be brought to the notice of the audited body or the public as a matter of urgency.

50 In preparing and issuing reports in the public interest, auditors should tailor their approach to the urgency and significance of their concerns.

Recommendations under section 11(3) of the Act

51 The auditor should consider whether to make any written recommendations to the audited body under section 11(3) of the Act, which need to be considered and responded to publicly. Where the auditor considers it necessary to make such recommendations, these can be included, where relevant, within other written outputs from the audit or they may be the subject of a specific report to the audited body.

Information to be reported to the Commission

52 From time to time auditors may be required to report information to the Commission in a specified format to enable it to carry out its functions, including assessments of performance at relevant bodies, or to assist its partner inspectorates and other review agencies and the National Audit Office to carry out their functions.

Chapter 5: Principles relating to the exercise of specific powers and duties of local government auditors

This section sets out how auditors fulfil the following statutory functions. References in the table are to the Audit Commission Act 1998.

Function	Statute
1 To give electors the opportunity to raise questions about the accounts and consider and decide upon objections received in relation to the accounts.	s15 and s16
2 To apply to the court for a declaration that an item of account is contrary to law.	s17
3 To consider whether to issue and, if appropriate, to issue an advisory notice or to make an application for judicial review.	s19A, s19B, s19C and s24

53 In addition to the general functions of auditors set out in previous sections of the Code, auditors of local government bodies have specific powers and duties under the Act. In exercising any of these specific powers and duties, including when they are carrying out audits of small local government bodies under Schedule 1, auditors should tailor their approach to the particular circumstances of the matters under consideration.

54 Where any representations are made or information is provided that is relevant to the audit, or matters relevant to the audit otherwise come to their attention, auditors should consider whether the matter needs investigation and action under their specific powers or whether it can be considered more effectively within planned work programmes and audit reporting arrangements under their general audit powers.

55 In considering whether to exercise any of their specific powers under the Act, auditors should apply a balanced and proportionate approach in determining the time and resources to be spent on dealing with matters that come to their attention. They should consider:

- the significance of the subject matter;
- whether there is wider public interest in the issues raised;
- whether the substance of the matter has previously been considered by the body's auditor;
- the costs of dealing with the matter, bearing in mind that these fall directly on the taxpayer; and
- in the case of objections, the rights of both those subject to objection and the objector.

Schedule 1: The audit of small bodies

Introduction

S1.1 This Schedule sets out the approach to be adopted for the audit of those bodies (referred to in this Schedule as small bodies) with either annual income or annual expenditure below a financial threshold, which may change from time to time and is prescribed by relevant regulations.ⁱ

Governance and accountability

S1.2 It is the responsibility of small bodies to put in place proper arrangements to ensure the proper conduct of their financial affairs, and to monitor the adequacy and effectiveness of those arrangements in practice. Small bodies are required to maintain proper accounting records and control systems and to maintain an adequate system of internal audit of those accounting records and control systems.

S1.3 Small bodies are responsible for preparing and publishing, and providing the auditor with, the accounting statements prepared for the financial year, together with such additional information and explanation as is necessary to provide sufficient evidence that they have maintained adequate systems of internal control and internal audit throughout the financial year.

The audit approach

S1.4 Auditors of small bodies should undertake an examination of the accounts and additional information and explanation provided by the body.

S1.5 Auditors should meet their responsibility by:

- reviewing compliance with the requirements for the preparation of the accounts;
- carrying out a high-level analytical review of financial and other information provided to the auditor; and
- reviewing such additional information and explanation as is necessary to provide sufficient evidence that the body has maintained an adequate system of internal control and internal audit throughout the financial year.

ⁱ Regulations made under section 27 of the Act prescribe a financial threshold for the purposes of determining the type of financial statements that a body is required to prepare and for other purposes.

S1.6 Where, on the basis of the auditor's reviews, the auditor requires further evidence in relation to any relevant matter, additional testing should be undertaken to address the auditor's concerns.

S1.7 When the auditor has completed an examination of the accounts and additional information and explanation provided, the auditor gives an opinion on the accounting statements and certifies the completion of the audit. Auditors provide assurance in the form of an opinion whether, on the basis of their review, the accounts and the other information provided are in accordance with the specified requirements and that no matters have come to their attention giving cause for concern that relevant legislative and regulatory requirements have not been met.

Appendix: Glossary

Accounting statements

The annual income and expenditure account, statement of balances or record of receipts and payments that a small body is required to prepare in accordance with, and in the form specified in, any annual return required by proper practices in relation to accounts.

This definition applies to small bodies only. Other audited bodies are required to prepare a statement of accounts. (See also 'Financial statements').

Act (the)

The Audit Commission Act 1998.

Annual audit letter

Report issued by the auditor to an audited body that summarises the audit work carried out in the period, auditors' opinions or conclusions (where appropriate) and significant issues arising from auditors' work.

Annual report

Although not required to do so, some local government bodies produce and publish other information, such as an annual report, alongside the financial statements. The annual report describes the aims and achievements of an audited body during a particular year and may include a summarised version of the financial statements.

Audit of the accounts

The audit of the accounts of an audited body comprises all work carried out by auditors in accordance with the Code to meet their statutory responsibilities under the Audit Commission Act 1998.

Audited body

A body to which the Audit Commission is responsible for appointing the external auditor, comprising both the members of the body and its management (the senior officers of the body). Those charged with governance are the members of the audited body. (See also 'Members' and 'Those charged with governance'.)

Auditing Practices Board (APB)

The body responsible in the UK for issuing auditing standards, Ethical Standards and other guidance to auditors. Its objectives are to establish high standards of auditing that meet the developing needs of users of financial information and to ensure public confidence in the auditing process.

Auditing standards

Pronouncements of the APB, which contain basic principles and essential procedures with which auditors are required to comply, except where otherwise stated in the auditing standard concerned.

Auditor(s)

Auditors appointed by the Audit Commission.

Code (the)

The Code of Audit Practice.

Commission (the)

The Audit Commission for Local Authorities and the National Health Service in England.

Ethical Standards

Pronouncements of the APB that contain basic principles that apply to the conduct of audits and with which auditors are required to comply, except where otherwise stated in the standard concerned.

Financial statements

The annual statement of accounts or accounting statements that audited bodies are required to prepare, which summarise the accounts of the audited body, in accordance with regulations and proper practices in relation to accounts.

Small bodies are not required to prepare a statement of accounts. They are required to prepare accounting statements.

Internal control

The whole system of controls, financial and otherwise, that is established in order to provide reasonable assurance of effective and efficient operations, internal financial control and compliance with laws and regulations.

Local government bodies

Bodies other than NHS bodies to which the Commission is responsible for appointing auditors, as set out in Schedule 2 of the Act. These include, for the purposes of applying the Code, local authorities, local councils (parish and town councils), police authorities, fire authorities, national park authorities and local probation boards and trusts.

Materiality (and significance)

The APB defines this concept as ‘an expression of the relative significance or importance of a particular matter in the context of the financial statements as a whole. A matter is material if its omission would reasonably influence the decisions of an addressee of the auditor’s report; likewise a misstatement is material if it would have a similar influence. Materiality may also be considered in the context of any individual primary statement within the financial statements or of individual items included in them. Materiality is not capable of general mathematical definition, as it has both qualitative and quantitative aspects’.

The term ‘materiality’ applies only in relation to the financial statements. Auditors appointed by the Commission have responsibilities and duties under statute, in addition to their responsibility to give an opinion on the financial statements, which do not necessarily affect their opinion on the financial statements. The concept of ‘significance’ applies to these wider responsibilities and auditors adopt a level of significance that may differ from the materiality level applied to their audit in relation to the financial statements. Significance has both qualitative and quantitative aspects.

Members

The elected or appointed members of local government bodies who are responsible for the overall direction and control of the audited body. (See also ‘Those charged with governance’ and ‘Audited body’.)

Partner inspectorates and review agencies

The Commission’s partner inspectorates are those organisations that are responsible for carrying out inspections, including bodies with statutory inspection functions such as Ofsted, the Care Quality Commission, and Her Majesty’s Inspectorate of Constabulary. Review agencies include other bodies that have regulatory responsibilities in relation to local government bodies, including government departments, the government offices and relevant regulators of local government professions.

Regularity (of the expenditure and income of local probation boards and trusts)

Whether, subject to the concept of materiality, the expenditure and income of local probation boards and trusts have been applied for the purposes intended by parliament, and whether they conform with the authorities that govern them.

Remuneration report

Audited bodies are required to produce, and publish with the financial statements, a remuneration report that discloses the salary and pension entitlements of senior managers.

Small bodies

Audited bodies with either annual income or annual expenditure (whichever is the higher) below a financial threshold, which may change from time to time and is prescribed for the purposes of regulations made under section 27 of the Act. The financial threshold is prescribed for the purposes of determining the type of financial statements that a body is required to prepare and for other purposes.

Statement on internal control

Local government bodies are required to publish a statement on internal control (SIC) with their financial statements (or with their accounting statements in the case of small bodies). The disclosures in the SIC are supported and evidenced by the body's assurance framework. At local authorities the SIC is known as the Annual Governance Statement and is prepared in accordance with guidance issued by CIPFA. Police authorities also produce a SIC in accordance with relevant CIPFA guidance. Local probation boards and trusts are required to prepare a SIC in accordance with the requirements specified by HM Treasury in Managing Public Money.

Third sector

The third sector includes voluntary and community organisations, charities, social enterprises and cooperative and mutual organisations.

Those charged with governance

Those charged with governance are defined in auditing standards as 'those persons entrusted with the supervision, control and direction of an entity'. In local government bodies, those charged with governance, for the purpose of complying with auditing standards, are:

- for local authorities – the full council, audit committee (where established) or any other committee with delegated responsibility for approval of the financial statements;
- for police or fire authorities – the full authority, audit committee (where established) or other committee with delegated responsibility for approval of the financial statements;
- for local probation boards and trusts – the board or audit committee; and
- for other local government bodies – the full authority or board or council, audit committee (where established) or any other committee with delegated responsibility for approval of the financial statements.

Audit committees are not mandatory for local government bodies, other than police authorities and local probation boards and trusts. Other bodies are expected to put in place proper arrangements to allow those charged with governance to discuss audit matters with both internal and external auditors. Auditors should satisfy themselves that these matters, and auditors' reports, are considered at the level within the audited body that they consider to be most appropriate.

Whole of Government Accounts

The Whole of Government Accounts initiative is to produce a set of consolidated financial accounts for the entire UK public sector on commercial accounting principles. Local government bodies, other than probation boards and trusts, are required to submit a consolidation pack to the department for Communities and Local Government which is based on, but separate from, their statutory accounts.
