

Bracknell Forest Local Safeguarding
Children Board

Annual Report

April 2014 to March 2015

Chairs Foreword

The Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB) is a strategic partnership bringing together organisations with a collective responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and young people.

As the Independent Chair of the Bracknell Forest LSCB I am delighted to present this Annual Report for the period 1 April 2014 to 31 March 2015.

As with previous years reports I have set out to describe the achievements and the challenges for the Board and its partners in ensuring the ongoing improvement of safeguarding practice for children and young people across the borough and for our young residents who receive specialist services provided outside of the area.

While the LSCB has continued to make progress in addressing safeguarding issues for our children and young people, we are not complacent and recognise the importance of ensuring this is sustained even through periods where demands increase but funding and resources are limited.

The LSCB Business Plan was a key document for the Board and guided its work during the year. As a result much of our activity was focused on ensuring we were able to address the targeted priorities identified while still fulfilling our core statutory responsibilities.

This progress was achieved through continued partnership working which research suggests, and we believe is at the heart of successful initiatives to address some of the challenges that many families face on a daily basis.

Working Together to Safeguard Children (HMGov, 2015) demonstrates the Government's commitment to strengthening the role of LSCBs in monitoring and scrutinising the effectiveness of local safeguarding arrangements. LSCBs are now subject to external scrutiny of their effectiveness with our key partner agencies also being held to account through similar processes of inspection.

This Annual Report provides evidence of the learning and the associated progress that was been made during 2014/15. The report highlights partner's contributions to developing a culture of constructive challenge and one that supports continuous improvement.

As the Chair of the LSCB I should state my gratitude to all those who are involved in the Safeguarding Children Board and in particular to all those in the workforce who have demonstrated their steadfast dedication and commitment, to protecting children and young people and improving their life chances.

1. Introduction

Bracknell Forest Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB) have published this Annual Report to give those working with, and planning services for children, young people and their families an overview of the LSCB, its achievements and the challenges that have been identified for its work in the future.

Part 1 of this report provides information about the wider environment in which children develop and gives the context to the work of the LSCB. Links to our website and other important documents are provided for those wishing to access more detailed information.

The second part of the report describes the work undertaken during the year to ensure partners have collaborated to prevent harm and ensure children and young people received early help, targeted services and steps taken to protect the most vulnerable children from further harm.

This report is shared widely with key partners and stakeholders including; the Children and Young People's Strategic Partnership, Community Safety Partnership, Thames Valley Police and Crime Commissioner, the Health and Wellbeing Board, the Family Justice Council and Bracknell Forest Partnership. Where relevant, specific recommendations have been made to these groups in order that we maintain a coherent and coordinated approach to the planning of services and ensuring their effectiveness.

1.1 About Bracknell Forest

Bracknell Forest lies west of London, at the heart of the Thames Valley and within the county of Berkshire. Bracknell was originally developed as a 'new town' and since its inception the population has grown continuously.

Although Bracknell Forest is one of the least deprived areas of the country and is ranked 291 out of 326 local authorities in England on the Index of Multiple Deprivation (2010), these headline figures mask significant pockets of deprivation that undoubtedly impact children and their families.

Information about Bracknell Forest can be found on the Joint strategic Needs Assessment website, this provides a comprehensive overview of Bracknell Forest at ward and borough level (<http://jsna.bracknell-forest.gov.uk/bracknell-forest-profile/ward-profiles>).

Six wards in the borough have child poverty figures above the South East average of 14.6%, and one ward is above the England average of 20.1%¹.

The 2011 Census showed that 84.9% of the population of Bracknell Forest was 'White British' and the BME population was 15.1%. The location of the Ghurkha regiment at the Royal Military Academy in Sandhurst has led to a significant settled Nepali community in the Borough.

¹ % of Children in low-income families, DWP 2011

Since 2001 the proportion of school pupils from minority ethnic groups has increased steadily from 6% to just over 19.5%. By January 2015, 11.3% of pupils in the Borough had English as an Additional Language (EAL) and 82 different languages were spoken in our schools, although many are only spoken by a very small number of pupils.

The latest population estimate for the Borough suggested that there had been a rise of 3% since 2010 to 116,567².

24% of these residents were identified as being aged 0-17years and the proportion of those aged 0-14 years continues to be higher than the national average.

The percentage of pupils at the Early Years Foundation Stage achieving a good level of development increased during the year and was 65%, compared to 60% nationally during 2014.

In 2014, 68.3% young people within the Borough achieved 5 + A* to C grades in GCSE, and 57.0% achieved 5+ A* -C including English and mathematics. Although not as high as previous years, these are above the England and South East averages for attainment.

The number of Bracknell Forest students who took A level examinations in 2014 increased to 414 (366 in the previous year). 99% of these resulted in a pass grade, with the average points score increasing to 773.

Approximately 17,226 pupils are now on roll in primary, secondary and special schools in Bracknell Forest, although there is some cross-border movement of pupils between Bracknell Forest and neighbouring authorities, primarily Wokingham, Windsor and Maidenhead, Hampshire and Surrey.

1.2 Vulnerable Children and Young People

The experience of the most vulnerable children/young people living in the Borough is in sharp contrast to the majority of our 27,500 children and young people (24% of the total population) who our local research suggests are happy, healthy and achieving well. <http://www.bracknell-forest.gov.uk/survey-of-cyp-2013-report.pdf>

It is this small minority of children and young people for whom partner agencies have specific responsibilities to provide a coordinated response to prevent harm, address known risks and to support those affected by abuse and neglect.

The information below identifies the numbers of children who have received support from Children's Social Care during the year 2014/15 and those who have received early help through a Common Assessment Framework (CAF or Family CAF), or a referral to the Early Intervention Hub (more information on early help is included later in this report). <http://www.bracknell-forest.gov.uk/commonassessmentframework>

Protecting Children/Young People from Significant Harm:

The number of children subject to a Child Protection Plan at 31 March 2015 was 122 (an increase from 108 in 2014), this was at the rate of 45.0 per 10,000 under 18 population.

68 of these plans were made under the category of neglect, which continues to be the highest category of need.

There has been a reduction in the number of plans made under the category of emotional abuse and 25 plans were in place under this category on 31 March 2015 compared to 37 in 2014.

Analysis undertaken suggests this may have been in part due to the focused work on domestic abuse and the local Domestic Abuse Perpetrators Service (DAPS).

Children subject to plans under the category of sexual abuse rose to 12 on 31 March 2015 (an increase from 2 in 2014), and a category of multiple abuse was 15 on 31 March 2015 (an increase from 4 in 2014).

While a number of factors may have led to the increase in plans to address sexual abuse, the recent publicity in respect of 'celebrity' and high profile Child Sexual Exploitation cases is thought to have had a significant influence.

Looked After Children:

The number of children looked after by the local authority at 31 March 2015 was 104 (a reduction from 113 in 2014), this was at the rate of 38.4 per 10,000 population.

61.3% of children looked after remained in stable placements which they had been in for two years or more, and is a marked improvement on the previous year where 51.6% of children were reported to be in stable placements.

13.5% of children looked after had three or more placement moves within the year, this is largely similar to 2014 (13.3%), whilst the figures show a slightly higher % rate in actual numbers, there was in fact one less child experiencing a placement move this year.

S17 Child in Need:

At the end of March 2015, 554 children in the Bracknell were receiving support from Children's Social Care under Section 17 of the Children Act 1989 (Child in Need). This number has remained similar over a two year period and was 555 in 2013.

Early Help Assessment (CAF):

At the end of March 2015, 349 CAF assessments had been completed within the Borough; this included 108 Family CAF assessments.

Referral to the EI Hub is the main outcome for CAF assessments, along with a number of multi-agency responses.

266 CAF reviews were completed in 2014/15 which is a positive increasing trend and follows the promotion of reviews within CAF training and also endeavouring to support the review process through visits to schools.

Early Intervention Hub:

At the end of March 2015, 352 referrals had been taken to the Early Intervention Hub for a multi-agency discussion. Nine of these cases were 'stepped up' to Children's Social Care and 113 cases were 'stepped down' from Children's Social Care for ongoing support at Tier 2. <http://www.bflscb.org.uk/sites/default/files/bf-lscb-thresholds.pdf>

1.3 About the Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB)

In April 2006, the LSCB was instituted as a statutory board and became an established multi-agency forum bringing together senior managers from a broad range of organisations working together to promote the welfare of, or protect, children and young people in Bracknell Forest.

Partners are individually and collectively held to account by the Independent Chair of the LSCB who ensures the regulatory role of the LSCB as described in statutory guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (HMGov 2015) is fulfilled.

Statutory regulation supporting the implementation of Section 14 of the Children Act 2004 requires that the central focus of the LSCB is to:

- Ensure the effectiveness of local services safeguarding and child protection practice.
- Co-ordinate services to promote the welfare of children and families.

In addition Regulation 5³ of the Local Safeguarding Children Boards Regulations 2006 sets out the roles and functions that support the above aims.

1.4 How did the LSCB Operate?

The LSCB met every 2 months during 2014/15 and was responsible for:

- Ensuring compliance with the statutory functions required of the LSCBs set out in Working Together to Safeguard Children (HMGov, 2015)
- Monitoring progress against the Business Plan.
- Scrutinising and challenging partners and sub group activity. (see appendix C)
- Monitoring Serious Case Review and Individual Management Review action plans.
- Receiving and commenting on partner's annual reports on safeguarding activity.
- Developing the use of shared resources across partner agencies to enable the LSCB to carry out its duties and processes efficiently.
- Agreeing and managing the LSCB and Partnership Forum agenda.

The LSCB Partnership Forum met three times during 2014/15 and involves a wider group of partners focused on:

³ <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukxi/2006/90/regulation/5/made>

- The views of children/young people in relation to safeguarding issues and the services provided to them and their families
- Developments within the work of organisations that impacted on the role of partner agencies and their ability to effectively safeguarding children/young people
- Sharing information and informing all partners on strategic developments
- The consideration of national developments, local initiatives and associated learning
- Support for partners in their effective communication of safeguarding 'messages' within their own agency and within multi-agency settings
- Participating in a rolling programme of workshops designed to extend members knowledge and understanding of specific issues to inform strategic governance and prepare for Announced Inspection

LSCB Sub Groups

The LSCB Sub Groups (see Appendix A) reported directly to the LSCB throughout the year. The primary function of the sub-groups was to undertake activities to meet the statutory functions of the LSCB and the agreed local strategic priorities identified within the Business Plan.

A number of these sub-groups are jointly commissioned by the six LSCBs located within Berkshire and held to account through clear reporting requirements, with additional oversight of other LSCB Independent Chairs within Berkshire. During the year all sub-groups reviewed their terms of reference; progress made and highlighted outstanding challenges to the LSCB.

LSCB Independent Chair

Throughout the year the Chair worked closely with all LSCB partners, and played a key role in holding agencies to account. The Chair provided an effective link between the LSCB and a range of regional and national strategic activity and developments.

The Chair is a member of the National Association of Independent LSCB Chairs and is the South East regional lead, chairing their regional network meetings and also sits on its national Board of Directors. As a result the Chair is able to represent local views at regional and national level and to bring in new and developing ideas to inform local developments and ideas.

Local Authority Governance

The Chief Executive of the Local Authority is required to hold the Chair to account for the effective working of the LSCB. This was achieved in a number of ways:

- During the year the Chief Executive was represented at both the LSCB and its Partnership Forum by the Director for Children, Young People and Learning.

- The LSCB Chair maintained regular contact with the Chief Executive through correspondence and twice yearly meetings with, the Lead Member for Children Young People and Learning, the Director for Children, Young People and Learning and the Chief Officer for Children’s Social Care in attendance.
- The Leader of the Council also attends these meetings annually and receives regular briefings / updates from the Chief Executive.
- Reports providing an objective view of the effectiveness of local safeguarding arrangements were presented to these meeting by the Chair and were in turn shared with members of the LSCB. During the year the Chair also met with an officer from the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner.

Outcome:

As a result of these meetings the Chair has successfully raised the profile of a number of key safeguarding issues and has also secured additional resources for the LSCB, which include permanent funding for the LSCB Business Manager post to increase capacity and permanent funding to support performance and quality assurance activity.

LSCB Membership

Membership of the LSCB was reviewed during the year to ensure representation from all statutory partner agencies as well as that from other agencies with a significant contribution to make in supporting local safeguarding priorities. The Chair has addressed the gaps in membership and the Board is now strengthened by adult mental health services, and voluntary/community sector representation at the Board and Partnership Forum.

A list of members of the LSCB is set out in Appendix B.

The technical expertise offered by ‘professional’ members of the Board’s Partnership Forum has been complimented by Lay Member representation for some years. As a result the independence afforded through this function was developed during the year and the same contribution is now made at the LSCB and will be extended to the Board’s Learning and Improvement Sub Group.

Outcome:

The revised membership of the LSCB reflects the way that agencies work together and the addition of adult mental health services in particular strengthen the joint work between adult and children's services, enabling a greater focus on key issues that adversely impact on children, including adult mental health, substance and alcohol misuse and housing conditions.

The addition of Involve (formerly BFVA) has enabled the LSCB to work more closely with the Voluntary and Community Sector, raising awareness of safeguarding and the work of the LSCB.

During 2014/15 the LSCB has been supported by:

- Business Manager (26 hours a week)
- Partnership, Performance and Project Officer (9 hours a week)
- Quality Assurance Officer (18.5 hours per week)

N.B: as of April 2015 the Business Manager hours increased from 26 to 32, and the Partnership Performance Project Officer post and the Quality Assurance post were combined to a single post of LSCB Performance and Project Officer working 29 hours per week.

1.5 Regional Collaboration across Thames Valley

Agencies from across the Thames Valley area have continued to work collaboratively in order to address the risks to children and young people. However, reorganisation and change within agencies have presented significant challenges in ensuring this approach remained feasible and continued to be an effective model for meeting the collective and individual requirements of the six LSCBs. The regional oversight of this work is maintained through an Independent Chairs and Business Managers Forum and progress is regularly reported directly to one of the LSCBs with an allocated 'host' role.

Outcome:

Regional collaboration has ensured that some key priority areas of the LSCB's have been sustained and fulfilled key statutory functions of the LSCB, examples of this include the work of the Child Death Overview Panel (CDOP), and the Sexual Advice Referral Centre (SARC).

2. Learning and Improvement Framework

During 2014/15 the LSCB built on the work of its previous Quality Standards Sub Group to embed its new Learning and Improvement Framework.

As a result the Board established processes to ensure learning from a range of activities improved practice and therefore outcomes for children. During the year the LSCB did this by:

- Developing an inter-agency Learning and Improvement Sub Group to over see the implementation of the new strategy
- Ensuring a 3 year programme of Safeguarding Standards / Section 11 self-assessments was undertaken of agencies to enable the LSCB to be assured individual organisations routinely identified areas of good practice and those requiring improvement
- Commissioning multi-agency audits and scrutinising partner's individual quality assurance activities to determine whether good practice and identified improvements have been implemented and were consistently applied
- Receiving child protection incident notifications and determining methodology to ensure learning took place and led to improvements in practice; and where necessary undertaking Serious Case Reviews
- Reviewing of all unexpected child deaths
- Routinely reviewing performance management data and information provided by partner agencies
- Developing more robust approaches to receiving feedback from frontline staff, families and children / young people

2.1 Monitoring of Safeguarding Standards (Pan Berkshire Agencies)

Bracknell Forest LSCB has an established strategy to support organisations working with children/young people and their parents/carers to undertake self-assessments in relation to the safeguarding standards set out within Section 11 of the Children Act 2004/s175 Education Act 2002. This work has been ongoing for some years and has successfully established a culture of self audit and periodic review.

In more recent years it was recognised that a number of agencies had regional functions and that it would be more efficient if these agencies were to receive a single combined request from the LSCBs based within Berkshire. This led to the creation of the Pan Berkshire LSCB S11 sub group that has coordinated requests to agencies and provided analysis of returns and progress made

Regular progress reports are made by the sub-group to the LSCB's, providing an assurance of the S11 Self Assessment process and outcomes. There have been challenges in undertaking this work within the limited resources available and the group is reviewing its function and considering alternative ways of working and modernisation of its systems in order to support more robust analysis.

During the year the subgroup also worked to:

- Complete the audit cycle and raised appropriate challenges where necessary
- Renew its membership incorporating professional views from the broader spectrum of agencies working with children and families

- Develop a clearer line of accountability and reporting directly to Bracknell Forest LSCB as the 'host' Board
- Modernise the key audit tool and systems that better reflected the responsibilities of agencies and that provided an overview summary of performance
- Streamline the work of the S11 panel to ensure better engagement with partner agencies
- Secure ongoing administrative support for the panel

Some key issues identified include:

- Understanding of 'safeguarding supervision' continues to vary across the children's workforce and opportunities exist for further exploration of multi-agency supervision or case discussion. As a result, detailed analysis was undertaken of practice within the Borough. Some good examples of supervision practice were identified, and further work is now planned to further strengthen such supervision across partner agencies.
- While safer recruitment training is available for staff within partner agencies, it would seem that some employers struggle to identify courses locally that have sufficient capacity. As a result the content and delivery of such courses delivered by the LSCB has been reviewed and attempts made to secure resources to increase the number of events planned for 2015/16.
- The quality and format of the S11 Submissions provided by Local Authorities were variable. Locally, Bracknell Forest engaged positively in this process and following a review of its action plan provided detailed information enabling the Board to be assured of the efforts being made to strengthen its safeguarding activities. As a result the local authority remains committed to safeguarding and continues to demonstrate management oversight at a corporate level.
- Although organisations did have a named senior person responsible for safeguarding, in some cases there appeared to be insufficient understanding of the actual range of responsibilities this entailed and how this influenced operational practice. As a result the LSCB has undertaken targeted work to raise awareness of roles and responsibilities and will continue to do this through 2015/16.
- The group noted that some larger partner organisations have increased the number of 'in house' training events for staff and as a result highlighted the need for a review of the current inter-agency training programme to consider the appropriate balance between single and inter-agency learning events. As a result partner agencies were engaged in a training needs analysis that will inform partner future planning and a revised pathway for accessing different levels of inter-agency training.
- Intelligence shared by agency representatives showed that there continues to be some confusion in regard to obtaining Disclosure and Barring Scheme checks as part of their safer recruitment processes (particularly for those in smaller voluntary organisations) and that employers need to ensure greater clarification is in place to inform safer recruiting practice. Within the Borough the LSCB has sought to address this within Voluntary and Community Sector forums, and through workshops held at the LSCB Partnership Forum. Details of the latest guidance have also been made available on the Board's website with changes communicated to partners through regular electronic updates.

Challenges during the period

- The sub group continues to refine its work but noted there have been some ongoing challenges, including: prioritisation and reorganisation within partner agencies, which has resulted in further 'churn' within the membership of the group and led to the appointment of a new chair.
- Securing Police and Children's Social Care representation remains a challenge that resulted in escalation to the LSCB Independent Chair's Forum.
- Ensuring sufficiently strong links between learning from s11 audits and the newly established Learning and Development sub-groups structures.
- Securing consistency in the quality and format of organisations self audit methods.
- Changes in the commissioning and governance arrangements in health and developing approaches that enable scrutiny of GP practices across Berkshire.

Outcome:

The S11 Sub Group have developed an automated tool to support partners in undertaking their self audits and refined their methodology to ensure sufficient scrutiny of the information provided by organisations operating across the 6 LSCBs.

The Group has also engaged directly with agency representatives to offer support and guidance in respect of any improvements required.

Voluntary and Community Sector and Community Engagement

An action identified in previous LSCB Annual Reports identified the need for further work to be done in order to develop better links with the voluntary, community and faith groups to ensure minimum safeguarding standards were in place and understood by their staff/volunteers.

A good deal of progress has been made in strengthening links between the LSCB and this sector and through the development of Involve (formerly Bracknell Forest Voluntary Action), a series of events were sponsored by the LSCB and have helped build on the more limited engagement secured in previous years.

Initial improvements in communicating key safeguarding messages have been strengthened through the use of social media, newsletter distribution and a programme of planned community events. In addition targeted community consultations have been designed to further support of the Board's ongoing problem profiling with respect to Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE).

Officers of the Board have also met with representatives from the Christian and Muslim Communities, and continue to consult with representatives from the Borough's Inter Faith Forum to ensure more is done to engage individuals and groups within the Borough.

Outcome:

During 2015/15, the LSCB worked more closely with Bracknell Forest Voluntary (BFVA) during their transition to become 'Involve', sponsored community events and established targeted consultations to support the Board's work in profiling the extent of CSE within the Borough

Voluntary and Community Sector organisations are now routinely represented on the LSCB and relevant sub groups which has enabled the sector to contribute to the delivery of the Board's responsibilities.

2.2. Individual Case Reviews: Serious Case Reviews (SCRs)

Although no SCR's were commissioned by the LSCB during the year, criminal proceedings continued in regard to the serious unexplained injuries of a young child who was the subject of a SCR during 2013/4. Due to these ongoing proceedings, the LSCB has not been able to publish the findings from the review but has continued to disseminate the learning established and review the actions of partner agencies required to make improvements.

The LSCB has also co-ordinated a number of events to support partner agencies in disseminating this learning and the recommended improvements outlined by the review.

In addition, the content and delivery of the inter-agency training continues to be reviewed and updated to reflect the learning from local case review activity and national SCR publications.

Outcomes:

The LSCB has co-ordinated and delivered a number of events to support partner agencies in disseminating this learning and the recommended improvements outlined by the review. This means that a range of staff have had the opportunity to attend learning and participate in inter-agency learning.

Staff attending fed back that they found the opportunity to meet with and talk to colleagues from a range of agencies to be beneficial in informing their knowledge and professional practice.

Following these successful events, the LSCB has a regular programme of learning and improvement workshops in place.

2.3. Review of Safeguarding Incidents and Case Reviews

During the year the LSCB's Learning and Improvement Sub-Group were notified of the following cases in which learning was identified:

Case 1: involved a young person who it was alleged had sexually assaulted and exploited a number of fellow pupils. Although this case did not meet the criteria for a Serious Case Review, the school were keen to review how they had responded to the concerns raised, identify learning and to make any improvements necessary. The Board were assured that this work was undertaken promptly and were kept informed of the actions taken to learn from this case and strengthen the schools policies and procedures.

Case 2: involved the serious self-inflicted injury of a young person and although this did not meet the criteria for a Serious Case Review, a partner agency that had significant involvement with the family undertook a thorough review of their involvement. This was subsequently shared with the Learning and Improvement subgroup. As a result the LSCB was assured that an appropriate response had been made.

Case 3: involved notification of a case in which a young person from outside of the Borough had allegedly been involved in a serious assault of a young person residing in the Borough. As a result, the LSCB in the area the alleged perpetrator normally resides have subsequently commissioned a Partnership Learning Review and the LSCB has worked with local partner agencies to support this process and ensure any learning identified informs the LSCB's understanding of any improvements that may be required.

Case 4: involved a number of children who had been the victims of sexual assaults at the hands of a perpetrator residing within the Borough. Although this case did not meet the threshold for a Serious Case Review, a review of practice was undertaken separately by two partner agencies with improvements having been subsequently identified and shared with partner agencies through the Learning and Improvement sub group.

2.4. Auditing of the effectiveness of Local Arrangements

In addition to the above case reviews, during 2014/15 the Learning and Improvement sub group reviewed its programme of audit and scrutiny work established during 2013/14 and ensured that the learning was documented and shared with partner agencies. Analysis of the methods used also informed the subsequent planning of the current programme of audits for 2015/16.

There were 3 multi-agency audits undertaken in 2014/15 with some aspects ongoing into 2015/16 and reflected the targeted priorities agreed by partners of the LSCB.

2.4.1 Child Sexual Exploitation

In 2013 the LSCB commenced on a programme of activity to better understand the profile of CSE across the Borough and commissioned an in-depth audit of three case files randomly selected from a group of young people identified as being vulnerable to CSE.

In addition to the information provided by partner agencies, the LSCB was able to engage directly with one of these young people and held a separate learning event with front line staff involved in their case.

In 2014 the LSCB embarked on a further programme of activity with partner agencies being asked to identify children/young people they considered to be at possible risk of CSE, those who had been exploited, the context and locations associated with CSE in the Borough and information about those suspected of perpetrating such abuse.

The work was informed by consultations with frontline staff and an engagement event involving young people from a range of schools across the Borough. This event was sponsored by the LSCB, but directly facilitated by young people from the Youth Council and enabled information to be shared as well as young people views to be elicited. Feedback from young people attending this event included the following key messages:

- Young people have better information on CSE that is helpful, but there needs to be more including information about the law and better communication between staff and parents
- Schools need to help teach what consent means in order to help breed a culture where consensual sex is expected
- Young people want to talk about their feelings
- Although it can be shocking, more open discussions about relationships and exploitation from different perspectives are needed in year 9-11 although some felt this should be addressed in primary schools
- There needs to be more safe places for young people to go to (e.g. drop in centres) and increased police patrols

In spite of the recent efforts made to promote awareness of CSE and associated safeguarding messages, the above feedback from the young people clearly indicated the need for further work to be undertaken across the Borough to ensure that safeguarding messages continued to be promoted outside of the key events already in place.

While no new information was received in respect of children/young people thought to be at risk of, or suffering from CSE, the details of two alleged perpetrators was gathered and shared with relevant agencies.

Information collected from these events has also informed the Board's understanding of the cross border challenges of a small unitary authority and the potential risks for our children/young people when they travel to neighbouring areas where the risks of CSE may be higher.

The LSCB facilitated a further inter-agency case file audit of six cases in which children/young people had been absent/gone missing and a further audit of five cases where concerns had been raised about the risk of CSE.

Emerging themes include:

- The importance of early help and timely independent return interviews
- The risk of drift in cases where there were concerns for children/young peoples mental health and interventions delayed while they waited for specialist assessments
- Insufficient understanding of children/young people's vulnerability where complex issues may not have yet been adequately resolved
- The increased risk to pupils excluded from education
- Agencies policies in respect of the retention of records seemed to prevent workers accessing potentially important historical information
- Ongoing challenges as to how important information is shared within and between partner agencies
- The importance of disrupting CSE and need to strengthen the focus of all partners on the alleged perpetrator and steps taken to deter them
- Whether some of the cases had been held too long by partners before a comprehensive assessment had been undertake.

All of the issues identified through these processes are being actively considered by the CSE Strategy Group and will inform the refresh of the CSE Strategy and Action Plan for 2015/16.

2.4.2. Early Help

During 2014/15, the Sub-group considered reports completed following an audit of Early Help cases and the 'Step Up' and 'Step Down' process. These cases were randomly selected from a sample provided by the Common Assessment Framework (CAF) Co-ordinator and were audited using a newly established process which ensured that the views of both practitioners and their managers informed the sub groups learning.

The following key findings were shared with partner agencies:

- The quality of record keeping was considered to be either good
- The CAF should not be seen as a substitute for referrals into CSC where significant concerns exist
- The need to ensure a focus was maintained in respect of fathers' involvement
- The Practitioners experienced difficulties in accessing specialist help when the child did not meet the thresholds for specific service provision
- Reports demonstrated a clear focus on the child, but showed less understanding of impact of the wider family environment
- The audit demonstrates effective and positive interventions by practitioners and that the Step Down process had worked well in the cases selected

- The lack of early intervention in some cases was a concern identified by the group, although the challenges of delivering services to families who moved frequently were acknowledged

2.4.3 Children subject to Child Protection Plans (for Neglect)

This audit was undertaken to consider the issue of neglect which remains the major reason for children becoming subject to Child Protection Plans.

The audit examined plans in place for six children whose ages ranged from pre-birth to 14 years old and consisted of four boys and two girls. The audit also explored the child's daily experience of neglect, parental and environmental risk factors, the help offered through the Child Protection Plan and the way in which the plan had progressed by the Core Group.

Themes identified within the audit included:

- Early Identification /criteria for making a CP Plan
Partner agencies identified and referred concerns about neglect, but there was no evidence of planning for 'step down' to the Early Intervention Hub when plans ended.
- Quality of CP Plans
The child protection plans audited were of good quality, although it was felt that improvements could be made to the format of plans and Core Group minutes. While all cases required an element of parenting work, resources available for intensive parenting support appeared to be limited and the panel questioned whether all voluntary sector services were known by workers.
- Progressing CP Plans in Core Groups
The audit demonstrated that professionals were able to identify indicators of neglect, but Core Groups appeared to have limited options to effecting change when parental behaviour was entrenched or they did not engage. The audit also suggested that improvements were needed to ensure all Core Groups progressed actions in a timely way, ensured better attendance, and that management oversight included monitoring of progress and staff supervision.
- Outcomes for children when CP Plan ended
The audit noted good practice in respect of therapeutic support to help children manage the emotional impact of neglect and/or parental substance misuse.

As a result of the recommendations made following the above audits, action plans were agreed and will continue to be monitored by the Learning and Improvement Group (LISG) in 2015/16.

2.4.4 Individual Agency Audits

In addition to the inter-agency analysis undertaken by the sub group, further audits were undertaken by the Local Authority in respect of joint working between Children's Social Care staff and their colleagues in local Police Child Abuse Investigation Units, Community Mental Health and Substance misuse services.

As a result examples of good practice were shared with the LSCB, as were areas requiring further improvement. The use of multi-agency supervision involving mental health and children's services was reported to be a positive example of facilitating closer working relationships between those from different disciplines.

Colleagues within the authorities Performance and Governance department now provide the LSCB with routine analysis of factors associated with cases being taken to Child Protection Conferences and have also helped its understanding of professional attendance which is to be extended to Strategy Meetings during the coming year. As a result further reviews are planned in respect of Strategy Meetings and will help ensure effective multi-agency working.

It is hoped that the routine analysis of referrals recently established by staff within the Community Mental Health services will help improve professionals understanding of the needs of young children whose parents/carers have mental health difficulties and promote a systemic approaches to providing effective help and further promote the concept of 'think family'.

During the year, the LSCB has used learning gleaned through the range of learning and improvement activities to challenge partners to ensure better communication and the early sharing of information. An example of this related to the domestic abuse notifications and the information required by partners to ensure help is offered at an early stage. As a result GPs now received such notifications, although the sub group's work continues to seek assurance that all relevant services are made aware of such risks to children including those based within Early Years Services.

National and Regional Learning

During the year, the subgroup considered the findings contained within the Annual Report of the National Panel of Independent Experts on Serious Case Reviews (NPIESCR) and the DfE funded research Barrier to learning from serious case reviews. Subsequently the LSCB jointly facilitated a Pan Berkshire strategic learning workshop. This event specifically focussed on the learning neighbouring LSCBs had derived from SCRs and their experiences of using different methodologies. The NPIESCR were subsequently invited to attend a future meeting of the group to further consider the context in which the sub group operates.

2.4.6 Staff Survey/Consultation Activity:

1. Safeguarding Supervision Survey.

Supervision processes within partner agencies has also been addressed by the LISG Sub group through a recent staff survey. The results of this survey will be available in July 2015.

2. SCR/Partnership Review survey.

During the year the LISG Sub Group identified the need to strengthen the systems in place to ensure actions identified within SCRs are robustly monitored and also undertook to consult with staff involved in SCRs/ Partnership Reviews previously commissioned.

Findings from the survey undertaken show that when compared to other methodology used, the 'Welsh Practice Review' methodology was favoured by staff. However, they also clearly indicated that they valued the learning events held by the Board as part of the 'SILP' SCR commissioned. Findings also showed the need for improved communications within such reviews and in particular that provided to them by their employers and the LSCB.

2.5 Child Deaths and the Child Death Overview Panel

Working Together (HMGov, 2015) outlines the statutory responsibility of the LSCB for ensuring that a review is undertaken of each death of a child, normally resident in their area, and this is undertaken by an independent Child Death Overview Panel (CDOP). Locally this service is jointly commissioned in partnership with our five neighbouring LSCBs.

The analysis provided by the CDOP follows a separate but related process in which an initial 'Rapid Response' is made by a team of key professionals who come together for the purpose of enquiring into and evaluating each unexpected death.

CDOP membership is drawn from organisations represented on the LSCB, but has the flexibility to co-opt other relevant professionals where necessary and that are accountable to the LSCB Chairs.

The key purpose for reviewing child deaths is to learn lessons and reduce child deaths in the future. However, the panel also identify areas in which all professionals, including healthcare and social care professionals can learn and improve the care they provide to children in order to help reduce the rates of child deaths.

As part of its function it routinely collects data on the following risk factors; maternal obesity, maternal smoking, co-sleeping, smoking parent/carer, domestic abuse, IVF, alcohol, late bookings and consanguinity of parents.

The LSCB is regularly updated on the work undertaken by the CDOP and has been reassured that it is operating effectively in identifying the key priorities for action to prevent child deaths. It is encouraging that the number of child deaths (shown in the table below) has continued to fall across the six areas in question.

57	60 (of these 5 related to child deaths in Bracknell Forest)	50 (of these 2 related to child deaths in Bracknell Forest)

Due to the small number of child deaths during the period and out of respect for the privacy of their families, details of their individual circumstances are not reported here. However, none of the children who died within the Borough were subject to child protection plans or any statutory orders at the time of their deaths and the learning in regard to the broader themes emerging from the work of the CDOPs is available at: <https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/statistics-child-death-reviews> and <http://www.berkshirechilddeath.org.uk/>

Key Learning

The following learning identified by the CDOP demonstrates its proactive attempts to avoid future deaths of children across the area:

- The development of an App containing advice relating to asthma
- Delivery of a targeted PSHE programme to increase awareness of consanguinity related deaths and other culturally harmful activities
- Continued promotion of safe sleeping advice
- Promotion of the latest recommendations for improving the health of women prior to pregnancy to reduce pre term births (OAHSNM)

Contributing to and being informed by learning from across the UK remains an important aim for the LSCB and during the year a subgroup of the CDOP prepared a paper for a national conference based on child deaths in relation to congenital anomalies. The panel have also sought assurance that work on reducing pre term births is also a regional health priority. As a result Thames Valley Children's and Maternity network has promoted training to increase awareness of the optimum way to take measurements during pregnancy. This is one of many further actions that the Oxford Health Sciences Academic network will take forward which aims to help set professional standards with the aim of achieving consistent screening and treatment in all hospitals in the Thames Valley.

The panel has responded to further accidental drowning's during the year and as a result has disseminated advice from the Health and Safety Executive to LSCB across the region. Follow up work with the Environment Agency has also promoted improved signage at a range of bridges where young people are known to play/swim.

The panel have also shared learning from the Thames Valley Cancer Network on culturally appropriate ways of marking children's deaths and circulated this to social care, health and education staff.

Outcomes:

Reducing rates of neonatal deaths remains a priority for the CDOP. As a result increased efforts are being made to ensure that agencies are able to address household risk factors such as infections in low birth weight babies and smoking.

2.6 Learning and Improvement Sub Group Key Achievements

In summary, as part of the implementation of the Board's new Learning and Improvement Framework, the LISG established a programme of routine scrutiny of partner agencies S11/safeguarding standards self audits and has increasingly challenged areas in need of improvement.

The sub group also increased the frequency of CDOP reporting and ensured that partner agencies were made aware of the key messages identified from this work. The subgroup also received and approved a review of the Rapid Response protocol supporting the initial actions taken following the unexpected death of a child and these improvements, together with other learning were the subject of an LSCB Forum workshop in September last year.

Learning activities during the period also indicated ongoing confusion in some areas regarding information sharing. As a result, the sub group escalated concerns to the LSCB and a review of local agreements was commissioned. This review has resulted in a refreshed protocol being drafted and will be circulated in due course seeking partner agency endorsement.

The sub group have also sought to improve the dissemination of learning through the existing inter-agency training and have continued to strengthen liaison with those designing and delivering courses locally.

During the year the sub group received information regarding the inspections of local GPs practices and the findings of the Care Quality Commission. The initial cohort inspected provided good evidence of robust practice safeguarding practice; however subsequent inspections have raised concerns which are being robustly addressed.

Challenge during the year

As is evident from the above information the LISG sub group has achieved much during the year with relatively little capacity. As a result, partner agencies have been under pressure to respond to an increased number of demands linked to this work and it has been necessary for the Officer of the LSCB and its Independent Chair to challenge a number of agencies to ensure they provided the information / support required.

2.7 Performance Monitoring and Reporting

The LSCB has monitored a range of data and performance indicators throughout the year, a full list of the areas monitored can be found in appendix D.

During 2014/15, Bracknell Forest LSCB has sought to improve the information it gathers in respect of partner agencies performance and commissioned a revised data set to strengthen its scrutiny of this area of work. As a result the Board has developed a format that will help partners refine the information they provide, and both challenged and supported them in establishing systems to provide data that has not previously been available and to provide a contextual narrative.

The monitoring of data has allowed the LSCB to actively question and challenge data and performance where information suggests there may be a cause for concern, or further clarification may be needed.

Some examples of queries raised in 2014/15 include:

- First time entrants to the Youth Justice System: Following a reduction over the last three years there was a slight increase in the numbers of young people entering the youth justice system. The number of first time entrants to the Youth Justice system increased by 23% from 26 to 32 between 2013-14 and 2014-15.

Although there has been a rise this year the numbers continue to be low and continues to show the success of the focus and resources into early intervention work with young people at risk of offending. The Youth Offending Prevention Service works with young people following the early signs of the risk of offending and deters them from going on to becoming offenders in the criminal justice system.

- The impact of homelessness: There was an increase of 33% in the number of homeless children and young people (from 88 to 117) between Q4 2013-14 and 2014-15. The LSCB requested further information on this and analysis shows this is mainly due to loss of rental tenancies as a result of private landlords giving notice or increasing rents.

During 2014/15, the Council increased their supply of temporary accommodation by purchasing a further four properties using funding via the capital programme, and leasing a further five properties from private landlords.

- Young Carers: There are 160 young carers currently known to Bracknell Forest Council (compared to 151 last year), and of these 56% are female and 44% male. Nearly a quarter (24%) have their own diagnosis of a medical or special need, over three-quarters (77%) are caring for an adult and nearly half (48%) are caring for a brother or sister (some are caring for both). 16% are aged between 7 and 9 years old, 44% between 10-13 years old and 40% between 14 and 17 years old.

It is estimated that there is likely to be twice as many young carers in the Borough and following the implementation of the Local Authority's 'Strategy for Young Carers 2013 – 2017', the numbers already identified is expected to increase. The LSCB will continue to monitor the number of young carer's, but more importantly receive assurance as to the support they receive and the impact of the care they provide on their health and wellbeing.

- Private Fostering: Despite the efforts of the Local Authority and partner agencies to accurately identify private fostering arrangements the numbers of cases reported to them remains very small.

In March 2014 the number of children known to be privately fostered was only three and by March 2015 the number was two (with one that ended during the year).

The LSCB is aware that it is very unlikely that this represents the true extent of such arrangements for children/young people in the Borough. As a result this remains an area that the LSCB will continue to scrutinise and proactively raise awareness of with partner agencies.

- Sexual offences against u18 year olds: Between Jan-Mar 2015 there were 44 sexual offences recorded against under-18 year olds. This was an increase from the previous three quarters in which such offences totalled 45. The total for the year was 89 compared to 2013-14 where the number was 67. However, this increase is probably largely due to the new National Crime Recording Standards which required that Police recording altered and that all reports are 'crimed' before any investigation is started.

The LSCB is aware that most child victims do not report such offences and while such data is important the findings of research in regard to the true prevalence of sexual abuse is equally important to informing our appreciation of the likely scale of such harm.

The LSCB also receives a six monthly report from the Manager of the Child Protection Conference Chairs which provides an analysis of the conference activity and analysis of the key presenting factors; the combination of Neglect, Domestic Abuse and Drug/Alcohol in particular appear to continue to present a major risk in the lives of the children and young people subject to such plans.

The report also provides evidence of how well agencies are working together and are engaged in the child protection process.

The LSCB will continue to monitor performance information using the new reporting format that has been developed.

2.8. Involvement of Children/Young People and Families

The LSCB continues to encourage partner agencies to ensure children/young people are consulted and/or involved in any area of their work that might impact on their lives. The Board is aware of the ongoing work within local youth services to engage with schools, youth groups and the youth parliament and the progress being made to improve the use of information technology and social media.

Agency activity to involve children, young people and families

The LSCB has retained an oversight of a range of activity across partner agencies that seek to include the voice of the child / young person.

This includes:

- The annual report of the IRO which demonstrates the involvement of children, young people and families in their LAC review process. Child participation is 100% and there are a range of creative ways in which participation is encouraged.
- The Children in Care Council (called SiLSiP in Bracknell Forest) has played an active role in planning and developing services.

Supported by a Participation Officer SiLSiP present information to the Corporate Parenting Panel, they have an opportunity to meet with the Director and Lead Member of Children's Services, and in 2013/14 they developed a training package called "Do They Know", aimed at practitioners and managers at all levels; it has been delivered by looked after young people to members of the Corporate Parenting Panel, to the Director of Children, Young People and Learning and other senior managers and a range of practitioners. The training continues to be rolled out and there has been interest from other authorities in the training. It is also now identified as a good practice example on the National IRO website.

- The annual report of the Statutory Complaints function which provides an overview of the number and type of complaints made against Children's Social Care under either the Corporate or Statutory Complaints Procedure. The LSCB has noted that in the year 2014/15 there were three complaints made by children and young people and one involved the use of an advocate, which was a very positive process and managed well between the Investigating Officer, Independent Person, the Advocate and the young person.
- Targeted activity with children and young people in schools includes the use of the Lobster DVD developed by young people on the subject of domestic abuse.
- Ongoing delivery of Chelsea's Choice; a drama production for young people in Secondary School about the risks of Child Sexual Exploitation.
- A campaign led by Bracknell Forest Community Safety Partnership (CSP), targeted at primary school pupils across the borough. Six schools have already taken part in a pilot of Digiduck's Big Decision Workshop, in which year one children (aged five and six) build on their understanding of jokes and how they can sometimes be hurtful. Another six borough primary schools will be welcoming Digiduck into classrooms this term.
- Each Child Protection Conference provides an opportunity for parents and professionals attending to complete an evaluation form about their experience of the conference.

These are completed regularly by participants and feedback is reported to the LSCB through the CP Chair reports and continues to inform development and improvement in CP Conferences. Work is underway to look at how children and young people can be more involved including the use of advocacy in conferences.

In order to ensure more systematic support for the involvement of children/young people in the work of the LSCB, the Partnership Forum committed to redesign its agenda to ensure that children and young people can directly and indirectly engage with its members. This approach ensures that at each meeting of the Forum, time is ring-fenced to ensure members consider the views of children/young people whether or not they physically attend. This has included presentations on Young Carers, SiLSiP and the children in care charter and the sharing of issues raised by focus groups facilitated by the LSCB on child sexual exploitation.

3. LSCB Sub Groups

In addition to the work outlined within section 2 of this report the following sub groups also link to and support other core functions of the Board and reflect the agreed priorities set out within its Business Plan.

3.1 Missing Children and Child Sexual Exploitation Strategic Sub Group

The CSE Strategic Sub Group was developed during 2013/14 and has continued to expand its terms of reference to include oversight of missing children. Members of the sub group have worked hard over the past year to ensure that all partners appreciate the importance of CSE and that it is a targeted priority for the LSCB.

During 2014/15 the Strategic CSE Group reviewed and updated the CSE Strategy and working closely with the CSE and Missing Children Operational Group to ensure further improvements were made to the responses in those cases where children had been missing.

The CSE and Missing Children Operations Group, is Co-Chaired by Bracknell Forest Children's Social Care, and Thames Valley Police, and meets on a monthly basis to consider, and risk assess referrals made to group by agencies using a screening tool developed in conjunction with neighbouring LSCBs. Multi agency commitment to this work remains high and at the end of March 2015 a data evaluation demonstrated that an average of 15 children and young people were being discussed at each meeting during the year. The CSE/ Missing Operations group identifies important themes that emerge within the local area and the recent appointment of a dedicated specialist worker has resulted in improved responses being made to the early screening that forms part of the independent 'return interviews' offered to those who have been missing and to the wider intelligence being elicited by young people. There has been challenge from the LSCB to ensure that these arrangements for undertaking independent return interviews are in place, are robust and analysis leads to improvement in practice.

The sub group have escalated concerns in relation to young people who appear to be traveling between sexual health services in order to avoid the attention of professionals and the need for staff within such services to be extremely vigilant. These issues will all be taken forward by the Strategic Group during the next period. Children/young people missing from Education was also raised as an area of concern and as a group, as a potential increased risk. As a result, the council now has a Children Missing Education group which meets quarterly to monitor and address these issues.

Throughout 2014/15, the CSE/Missing Strategic Sub Group considered reports from the CSE Operations Group and updates from partner agencies on progress towards achieving the aims of the CSE Action Plan. The group also considered the messages from research, recommendations from SCRs and published reviews which were also shared with members of the LSCB and its Partnership Forum. As has been mentioned previously, the engagement of frontline staff within the LSCB's ongoing programme of problem profiling also provided the opportunity for an external expert to share learning from other areas of the UK. A similar workshop was held offering senior managers the opportunity to consider the legislative and policy requirements associated with CSE and the importance of leadership in ensuring robust systems were in place to protect this group of children and young people.

Outcomes:

The LSCB's ongoing programme of problem profiling child sexual exploitation also provided the opportunity for an external expert to meet with frontline staff and senior managers to share learning from other areas of the UK.

Although much progress has been made during the year, the sub group was also required to challenge partners due to the low take up of the training made available by the LSCB. A subsequent review of the training pathways available to staff was undertaken and the group endorsed a more comprehensive programme of training, which subject to the available funding will provide professional development opportunities to both junior and the most senior staff alike. In turn the LSCB has challenged partners as to the sustainability of the current training without increased funding.

Increased scrutiny of partner's responses to Missing Children and CSE is planned for 2015/16 by way of an inter-agency audit of cases. This will focus on children have been missing and a separate cohort of those thought to be at risk of CSE and it is hoped that this will provide a more independent examination of individual and organisations and further insight into inter-agency working.

In order to ensure they are informed of the latest developments in this area of work members of the sub group have attended a number of regional and national events during the year and the Sub Group expanded its membership to incorporate a wider range of services that play an important role in tackling CSE. Improved links with the Voluntary and Community sector were made through representation from Involve (formerly Bracknell Forest Voluntary Action) and as previously mentioned plans are now in place for local groups to contribute directly to the ongoing profiling of CSE across the Borough.

The CSE Strategy can be accessed at: <http://www.bflscb.org.uk/sites/default/files/safeguarding-children-and-young-people-from-sexual-exploitation-strategy.pdf>

3.2 Training and Development Group (East Berkshire)

Bracknell Forest LSCB commissions multi-agency training through Bracknell Forest Council and has a strong track record of providing professional development opportunities to a diverse workforce, including staff from both statutory and voluntary agencies.

In January 2015 the existing Pan Berkshire collaboration was reviewed and although links are maintained between neighbouring Boards, it was recognised that planning across so many LSCBs was not a sustainable model. As a result Strategic and Operational planning for staff in the Borough is now overseen on an East Berkshire basis.

However, learning from quality assurance activities and reviews/serious case reviews continues to be shared between LSCBs and planning is in place to facilitate joint seminars that further build on the messages disseminated within core training.

The delivery of training is co-ordinated by staff within Bracknell Forest Council, with the overall strategy being managed via a newly established East Berkshire LSCB Sub Group from January 2015. During 2015 work has been done to further develop the analysis of the learning/training needs of the workforce across the Borough and has also included organisations that cover a number of LSCBs. Despite underdeveloped approaches to training needs analysis, scrutiny of S11 audits would appear to suggest compliance with required training, and indicative feedback from agencies at L&D Sub-group meetings provides positive assurance from partner agencies. However, empirical evidence would provide a more robust demonstration of this hence the prioritisation of activity in 2015-16.

Locally, the training provided is detailed in the LSCB's Training Calendar, which is disseminated across partner agencies and available on the LSCB website. It details a comprehensive range of training available across the scope of universal, targeted and specialist safeguarding training. Details of training can be accessed at:

www.bflscb.org.uk/training

Activity

During 2014/15 over 1360 individuals attended safeguarding courses commissioned by the LSCB for staff and volunteers across the Borough and offered generic learning in respect of safeguarding children and specific courses covering:

- Common Assessment Framework
- Children with Disabilities
- Safer Recruitment
- Parental Mental Health
- Domestic Abuse
- E Safety
- Child Sexual Exploitation
- Substance Misuse
- S47 Investigations
- Neglect

In addition to these locally run events staff were also able to access training in other areas provided by neighbouring LSCBs.

The provision of Specialist Training in relation to specific topics, compliments the core Universal and Targeted Training provided through a rolling programme of inter-agency training. Throughout the year most LSCB training has been oversubscribed and in the few cases where numbers have been low the LSCB has provided a challenge to its partners and supporting them to improve their marketing of such events.

Where demand outstripped capacity it has been necessary for some staff within larger partner agencies to receive single agency training. As a result the newly established East Berkshire consortia is reviewing its strategy and evaluating capacity in order to ensure it can continue to promote inter-agency training as its preferred approach for the majority of staff.

The use of E-Learning for CSE was also reviewed during the year and as a result the sub group subsequently challenged the provider previously commissioned as no management information was available to evaluate its effectiveness. As a result a new provider was commissioned and it is intended that the use of this approach will be integrated into the planning for our 2015/16 programme of training. The available management information, together with improved evaluation of other courses will strengthen the LSCB's understanding of how such activities impact on practice and therefore the protection of children / young people.

The Training and Development Strategy has been revised by using examples from good and outstanding LSCBs across the country as well as the previous Berkshire strategy. This has been rewritten and released for comment and will be passed to all LSCBs for formal approval at the next available opportunity.

Securing representation on the sub group from all partner agencies has also proved increasing difficult during the year and as a result concerns were escalated to the Independent Chairs of local LSCBs who in turn have challenged partners.

Outcome:

Over 1360 staff and volunteers benefited from Training and Development opportunities provided through the LSCB, with 852 staff attending Universal training, 351 attended Targeted training and 160 accessed Specialist courses.

Issues identified through serious case and other learning activities have been incorporated into relevant training provided ensuring that learning and development opportunities offered are up to date and relevant.

3.3 Early Intervention Group

The Early Help Group has maintained an overview of early help activity and some of this is summarised below:

The CAF continues to be a key tool to identify and assess needs to support early help. At the end of March 2015, 349 CAF assessments had been completed; this includes 108 Family CAF assessments.

Comparative data within the South East region suggests that Bracknell Forest has the highest rate of completion of CAF's (based on 13 out of 19 authorities).

The Early Intervention Hub continues to experience a high volume of referrals, at the end of March 2015, 352 referrals had been taken to the Early Help Hub for a multi-agency discussion. Nine cases were stepped up to Children's Social Care and 78 cases were stepped down from Children's Social Care for ongoing support at Tier 2.

Children's Centres provide a key element of early help for very young children and during the year the registration of 0-4 year olds registered was 79.4% (three of the centres individually had exceeded the 80% target).

Children's Centres continue to provide a wide range of activities that focus on early help, including targeted work on school readiness, supporting 2 year olds who meet the criteria for vulnerable child funding, family outreach support, Freedom Programme targeting early domestic abuse, Solihull Parenting programmes and the Young Parents Group.

A Family Intervention Team was established in September 2014 following an extensive review of parenting support across the Children, Young People and Learning Department. This team has been developed to re-focus on early help support and now works with families to reduce the risk of an escalation onto higher level statutory services.

The Youth Service has been through a period of significant change and is now delivering more targeted support for vulnerable young people. Support offered includes alcohol and substance misuse teaching sessions and direct work with young people. Attendances at sexual health clinics have remained high and the rolling rate of teenage conception for under-18s in December 2013 was suppressed as it was less than five.

The group has been working on a review of the Early Help Strategy and a new strategy has been completed and will be published in the summer of 2015.

Following the publication of a new threshold document a poster and short guide were developed to provide a quick reference for practitioners on thresholds; these have been widely circulated and are also available on the LSCB website: <http://www.bflscb.org.uk/links-and-publications>

The Group also received the first set of audits on early help, and an action plan has been developed to address the findings. A programme of early help audits is planned to begin in the autumn of 2015.

Bracknell Forest was one of nine local authorities to participate in the Local Authority Research Consortium (LARC) with LARC 6 focused on issues of neglect and how we can encourage family and local communities to take a more active role in identifying early indicators of neglect. The findings from the report published in April 2015 will be used to further develop local responses to neglect. The full report can be accessed at: http://www.nfer.ac.uk/publications/LRCN01/LRCN01_home.cfm

3.4 Policies and Procedures Group (pan Berkshire)

The Group meets on average four times a year and following the agreement for each of the Berkshire LSCB's to host one of the Pan Berkshire Groups the Policies and Procedures Group is hosted by Slough LSCB.

During the year the group provided oversight of the online guidance jointly commissioned on a Pan Berkshire basis and highlighted the need for this to be reviewed ahead of its renewal in the autumn of 2015.

During the year the group also undertook a review of its terms of reference and although a new chair was appointed early in 2014, the Group has continued to be less stable than was hoped. As a result of the delayed progress in this work LSCB's raised concerns about the effectiveness of the current arrangement and have instigated a review of how the online guidance is commissioned and jointly overseen. A mixed range of activity has been undertaken during the year and a key focus of the group has been in ensuring that the policies and procedures on the system were reflective of the revised Working Together Guidance. Discussion and comparison has taken place across the six Berkshire authorities including an analysis of the similarities and differences in content.

New procedures for responding to CSE including a Pan Berkshire CSE Indicator Tool were completed and implemented during the year, providing consistent guidance for all agencies.

Membership of the Group has been challenging and this has been effected the capacity to progress some areas of work. The issues were robustly addressed and raised with the Regional Independent Chairs and positive action is being taken to ensure the Group is able to deliver its priorities.

4. LSCB Targeted Priorities

During the year the LSCB revised its Business Plan and as a result of consulting with children/young people, staff and members of the Board identified two additional priority areas which were felt to be important in safeguarding children and young people within the Borough.

These were to ensure effective oversight of the work of partner agencies to:

Targeted Priority 1

Support further implementation of the framework for early help, and evaluate its impact on families

Targeted Priority 2

Reduce the impact of domestic abuse on children, young people and families.

Targeted Priority 3

Reduce the impact of substance and alcohol misuse on children, young people and families

Targeted Priority 4

Reduce the impact of parental mental illness on children and young people

Targeted Priority 5

Develop a greater understanding of neglect and reduce the impact this has on children, young people and families

Targeted Priority 6

To further develop the co-ordination of protection and support to young people at risk of child sexual exploitation

Targeted Priority 7

To Increase the understanding of the harm associated with the misuse of technologies and further develop proactive strategies to support children / young people and their families

TP 1: Support further implementation of the framework for early help, and evaluate its impact on families

The LSCB contributed to the development of “Creating Opportunities – Positive Futures, a prevention and early intervention strategy for children, young people and families in Bracknell Forest 2012 – 2014” and has continued to monitor early help as a targeted priority area. This strategy is in the process of being reviewed and is scheduled to be presented to the Board in July 2015.

The work undertaken by the LSCB in regard to CSE has also highlighted the need for the development of the Early Help Strategy to help colleagues working with the youngest children to develop interventions that help better equip parents with strategies to prevent children becoming vulnerable to exploitation.

As previously suggested the Local Authority Research Consortium’s work locally in respect of neglect also supports the focus on families and local communities to take a more active role in identifying early neglect and will be used to further inform local responses to neglect.

TP 2: Reduce the impact of domestic abuse on children, young people and families

The Domestic Abuse Forum Sub Group reports to the Community Safety Partnership which has a lead in the development and implementation of the Domestic Abuse Strategy. The LSCB monitors progress through a regular report on progress presented to the LSCB and through ongoing audit and quality assurance activity.

Examples of work undertaken in 2014/15 include:

- Delivery of training
- Providing the PICADA (Positive Intervention for Children Affected by Domestic Abuse) programme
- Providing IDVA (Independent Domestic Violence Advisor) and Outreach support through Berkshire Women’s Aid and hosting a Women’s Aid pilot project aimed at younger children
- Introduction of a second tier perpetrator programme (Plain Talking) which supplements the existing Domestic Abuse Perpetrator Service (DAPS)
- Providing a Sanctuary Scheme (additional security in the homes of victims)
- Working with the Royal Military Academy to ensure systems were in place to tackle Domestic Abuse

- Promoting positive relationships to children, young people, parents and carers through the 'Lobster' drama initiative /Stepping Up programme/Face Front Theatre productions
- Undertaking a publicity campaign
- Employment of a DA Co-ordinator

However, in line with other areas of abuse 2014/15 saw an increase in levels of domestic abuse. The level of domestic abuse recorded crime increased by 12% to 570 cases when comparing figures for the previous year. Domestic abuse non-recorded crime (i.e. where a crime has not been committed but the incident has been reported to the police) also increased by 2% to 1548 cases during the year.

During the same period the number of referrals to MARAC (Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conference) decreased (by 24%) during the year to 93 and is below the SafeLives recommended number of 180 who it is suggested should be referred to the MARAC. As a result the LSCB is monitoring progress against this measure and understands that further analysis is to be completed in order to verify the accuracy of the estimated target.

The number of children in the household of those cases discussed has also decreased to 93, although this includes some double counting in respect of the repeat cases. Over half (52%) of cases continue to be referred to the MARAC by the Police, with 38% being referred by the IDVA (Independent Domestic Violence Advisor). The low level of other partner agencies referrals is also an area subject to ongoing monitoring by the Board.

The Domestic Abuse Service Co-ordination (DASC) oversees all the ongoing work that is in place with a cohort of medium risk cases where children are on Child Protection Plans or are CIN and where there are high repeat rates of domestic abuse. DASC ensure referrals for support to victims are made to Berkshire Women's Aid as well as to services for perpetrators of DA. Despite the challenges outlined above, an independent evaluation of project by Cambridge University showed that although work with perpetrators and victims may not reduce the number of domestic abuse incidences, the severity of the abuse itself was lessened.

Domestic abuse has remained a key feature in respect of cases coming to the attention of Children's Social Care. In addition to the Probation Service's 'Integrated Domestic Abuse Programme' (IDAP), the specialist Domestic Abuse Perpetrator Service (DAPS) have continued to support the work co-ordinated by the Local Authority in respect of families where children were the subject of Child Protection Plans. The DAPS worked with 32 men during 2014/15 and work also commenced during this period to establish a brief early intervention service 'Plain Talking'. It is intended that this new service will provide a confidential and anonymous helpline for anyone concerned about their violence and/or abuse towards a partner or ex partner.

The impact of DA on children/young people is well documented and the longer term impact of the work being co-ordinated across the borough will continue to be the subject of further evaluation. As a result Domestic Abuse remains a priority for the LSCB.

TP 3: Reduce the impact of substance and alcohol abuse on children, young people and families.

Work undertaken to address substance and alcohol misuse issues is coordinated by the Drug and Alcohol Strategy Group which covers both adult and young people within its remit and reports in to the Community Safety Partnership.

In Bracknell Forest approximately 45% of adults presenting for drug and / or alcohol treatment* in had childcare responsibilities. The percentage of parents in treatment in Bracknell Forest is significantly higher than the national average.

There were 198 parents/carers in treatment for opiate use (58), non-opiate drug use (29), alcohol use (89) and a combination of alcohol and non-opiate use (22) in Q4 2014-15. There were 113 new presentations (for parents/carers) in this quarter.

The LSCB has received reports which describe the operational links between Children's Social Care and the substance misuse services and mental health services- (please see below) to ensure a "think family" approach to safeguarding children where parents are engaging in substance misuse.

There were 74 young people in treatment for the year 2014-15. 50 of them were new presentations. The number of planned exits was 23 (62%) which is a 4% drop against the previous year (66%). There has been a significant reduction on the percentage of young people presenting with Amphetamine as a drug of choice. In Q4 this year it was 35% compared to 47% in Q3 and 53% in 2013-14.

TP 4: Reduce the impact of parental mental illness on children and young people

In common with other areas of the country, work undertaken by the LSCB highlighted the vulnerability of some children/young people whose parents have mental health problems.

During the year work has progressed to promote greater liaison between Children's Social Care, Community Mental Health Services (CMHT) and professionals working in substance misuse services. As a result quarterly meetings between the 3 services now take place and have embraced the recommendations within 'What about the Children?' (Ofsted, 2013).

CMHT now monitor the number of children of adults receiving services and joint case file audits have been undertaken and learning shared with the teams involved and weekly CMHT multi-agency meetings also promote attendance by professionals from other disciplines. A newly appointed worker from CMHT now spends one day a week within the substance misuse service, offers a monthly consultation to CSC workers to discuss joint cases and all new workers are encouraged to spend time in each other's services as part of their induction.

Perinatal cases are now prioritised and seen within 5 days and if parent appear unable to cope with children or there is deterioration in their health a joint visit between CMHT and CSC staff is now recommended.

As a result of the development work undertaken safeguarding children is now a standing item within staff supervision and a named child protection professional is available to all staff needing safeguarding advice.

The following areas have been identified for ongoing development:

- Continued Joint liaison meetings between CMHT, CSC and SMART
- Review of consultation processes for young people and parents and carers and a systematic process for collating their views and feeding into the service development
- To undertake a review of the outcomes from CMHT monthly case discussions with CSC
- Child Sexual Exploitation training to be mandatory for all CMHT staff
- LSCB Targeted Safeguarding Children Training to be mandatory for all CMHT staff

CMHT to explore their current referrals to CSC and compare these to previous years contacts in order to identify any learning. However, CMHT waiting times for treatment and numbers waiting have risen and this has been identified as risks and shared with the LSCB.

TP 5: Develop an understanding of neglect and the impact this has on children, young people and families.

During 2014/15 the LSCB built on the work of a task and finish group set up to undertake some research about neglect and its impact locally.

The publication of the Council's "Really Useful Guide to Neglect" and development of the LSCB training further strengthened practice and was further informed by messages from research and learning from serious case reviews.

- As mentioned previously scrutiny of this area of work was provided through an inter-disciplinary case file audit and highlighted a number of areas of good practice as well as those where improvements could be made-see section 2.3.
- Monitoring of the categories of children subject to a Child Protection Plan shows that at the end of March 2015 of the 122 children subject to a child protection plan 68 (56%) were under the category of neglect and has therefore continued to remain high in recent years.
- Improved integration of the work undertaken previously in respect of neglect within the Board's work on Early Intervention will improve oversight of the work being undertaken by partners.
- The LSCB sought additional funding from DfE as part of its Innovation programme to provide dedicated support for innovative work to examine further the interventions that would appear most effective and if successful support practitioners in there implementing these.

TP 6: To work with partner agencies to develop a strategy for the coordination and Provision of support to young people at risk of child sexual exploitation

The issue of CSE is covered in a number of areas of this report and will remain a key priority for the LSCB.

The CSE Strategy Group has continued to develop and implement its CSE Strategy and will seek to further develop work locally in light of local and national learning.

- The recent review of the Pan Berkshire screening tool will ensure greater consistency across the Borough and local region.
- Members of the inter-agency CSE Operations Group have ensured plans are in place for all children/young people at risk of CSE and will continue to monitor those who are reported missing. Further development of work to ensure that those missing from education and from care are monitored will be the subject of greater scrutiny by the LSCB.
- Improved CSE training is currently being delivered and improved e-learning modules have been commissioned and are being rolled out. However, resourcing of the current programme will not be sustained in the coming year and funding of the proposed pathway is need as a matter of urgency.
- Work continues to ensure greater awareness of CSE amongst young people in schools through drama productions and the LSCB is keen to see that this is extended to parents and carers.
- Police disruption of perpetrators activities has been successful in a small number of cases and the LSCB would like to see responsibility for this being shared more fully across partner agencies.

The LSCB plans to coordinate further 'problem profiling' of CSE within the local community within Bracknell Forest in the hope that this will further inform our local strategy which aims to, Prevent CSE, Identify victims/perpetrators and ensure successful Prosecution of those who commit/facilitate such crimes.

The LSCB is aware of the risk of children/young people being trafficked and it is hoped that the improvements made within the work of the CSE Operation Group will enable better information sharing to inform a more accurate understanding of this. However, the LSCB has requested that better links are made between regional organisations and that knowledge gleaned within each LSCB better informs the planning of their work locally.

Strengthening the links between key strategic groups within the Borough has continued during 2014/15 and the formation of a 'Joint Working Protocol' agreed by the Safeguarding Adults Protection Board, Health and Wellbeing Board and the Children and Young People's Partnership (www.bfsapb.org.uk/sites/default/files/bracknell-forest-joint-working-protocol.pdf) further underpins this joint commitment to co-ordination and strategy planning.

Targeted Priority 7: Increase the understanding of the harm associated with the misuse of technologies and further develops proactive strategies to support children / young people and their families.

The work of the E Safety Sub Group is overseen by the Community Safety Partnership and has worked to further develop the following areas of activity:

- Communication and Awareness Raising
To ensure that all children, young people, vulnerable adults and the wider community are equipped with the knowledge and skills to ensure safety online and when using other forms of communication technology.
- Education and Training
To ensure that all people who work with children, young people and other vulnerable groups in the community have access to good quality procedures and effective training to safeguard those at risk and are made aware of their responsibilities to ensure that technology is appropriately safeguarded.
- Monitoring and Reporting
To ensure that consistent systems and services are in place to prevent the community from becoming victims, ensure that minimum standards are met and enable reporting.
- Responding to Specific Incidents
To ensure that all victims are protected and given an appropriate level of support, and to encourage and support the identification and prosecution of offenders.

Internet safety and the misuse of technologies is a continually-evolving threat to children and young people and an area that has been prioritised by both the Community Safety Partnership (CSP) and LSCB.

Anecdotal evidence from practitioners in the borough suggests that children and young people are participating in extremely concerning behaviour online with little regard for, or understanding of the implications and repercussions in both the short and long term. This local anecdotal evidence suggests that what is happening in Bracknell Forest is reflective of the picture emerging from national research.

The E-Safety Sub Group carried out extensive research on current online trends and risks that young people were taking to inform its 2014/15 action plan. As a result of this research the following areas of concern were identified:

- Young people giving out personal information
- Webcam abuse (as opposed to young people meeting strangers in the 'real world')
- Younger and younger children accessing the internet
- Easy, unregulated access to online pornography and its impact on healthy relationships (i.e. consensus that the majority of young males felt they learnt more from watching pornography than they would in Sex Education at school, resulting in sexual expectations in relationships changing and young people feeling pressurised)
- Pressures for sending and exchanging sexually explicit images, these images going viral and extreme cyber-bullying as a result

These areas of concern were shared within a workshop at the LSCB Forum during the year and the findings and recommendations from the following publications were also disseminated:

- 'Emerging Patterns and Trends Report #1: Youth-Produced Sexual Content', The Internet Watch Foundation (IWF) in partnership with Microsoft, (March 2015)
- 'Young People, Sex and Relationships: The New Norms' Institute for Public Policy Research, (August 2014)
- 'For Adults Only? Underage access to online porn' A research report by the Authority for Television On Demand (ATVOD), (March 2014)
- 'Basically... porn is everywhere: A Rapid Evidence Assessment on the Effect that Access and Exposure to Pornography has on Children and Young People' Office of the Children's Commissioner (2013)

3.2 Additional Areas of LSCB activity and challenge

During 2014/15 there have been a number of local issues brought to the attention of the LSCB where the LSCB has applied additional scrutiny and requested reports /information to provide further assurance. These are captured in a Challenge log which is an agenda item for each LSCB meeting-examples include:

Poor housing and poverty

The LSCB has remained appraised of the impact of poverty and the challenges many families face particularly in respect of the costs associated with local housing.

It continues to be of concern that children/young people face adversity linked to homelessness and poverty and is aware of the increased vulnerability that such circumstance can cause.

Culturally Harmful Behaviours

The LSCB is mindful that within communities some individuals/families may participate in practices that are harmful to children / young people. It continues to require partners to remain vigilant as to these apparently infrequent but significantly harmful incidences.

The issues of Forced Marriage and Female Genital Mutilation are not commonly reported within Bracknell Forest and as a result staff may not develop experience of managing such complex cases. In an attempt to support partners in maintaining awareness of these issues, the inter-agency guidance issued by the Board contains specific reference to local procedures, and links to both national guidance and fact sheets.

In addition to the Government's guidance distributed in the previous year the LSCB circulated copies of 'Tackling FGM in the UK, Intercollegiate recommendations for identifying, recording and reporting', published by a number of the Royal colleges. As a result of proposals made within last years annual report an East Berkshire FGM Steering Group led by health colleagues has undertaken analysis of the situation locally and continues to share learning emerging with members of the Board

Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation

As has been demonstrated earlier in this report, much has been done to raise awareness of the harm associated with CSE and the robust responses needed to prevent such abuse and where it has occurred to provide appropriate support.

However, the recent increase in case of child sexual abuse has highlighted the need for partner agencies such as the police to be able to respond swiftly and sensitively to the victims affected. The LSCB together with neighbouring Boards has challenged ion Thames Valley Police and the Police and Crime Commissioner to ensure resources are made available and it is hoped that they will be able to consider increased prioritisation of safeguarding children within their future resources in the coming year.

Looked After Children and the role of the Independent Reviewing Officer

In last years report the LSCB identified the crucial role of the Independent Reviewing Officer (IRO) and the effectiveness of arrangements for Bracknell's looked after children .This years report identified examples of good practice, but also key challenges that have also been demonstrated within the more recent findings of the CSE audits detailed earlier in the report.

It is encouraging that additional resources were secured to manage the increased workload associated with this service enabling an additional part time IRO post and increased management oversight of the service.

As a result work was undertaken to ensure children could access their IRO more easily and to improve the involvement of their parents in the review process. During the year, the service also reviewed its work, undertook an audit of its recording and engaged in internal peer review activity. Learning gleaned through the work of the IROs was shared with a wide range of professionals across the Borough and contributed to regional and national development of policy and practice.

Analysis of the data reported into the LSCB was informed by the views of IROs and their contribution to the Board's programme of audit has supported a number of areas identified as being in need of improvement.

The Management of Allegations against staff/volunteers and the role of the Local Authority Designated Office.

The Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) plays a crucial role in provides advice and guidance to employers and other individuals/organisations that have concerns relating to adults who work with children and young people. The LADO overseeing this work is a qualified and experienced social worker and therefore compliant with the recent changes in statutory guidance.

The procedures they support apply where a person who works with children whether in a paid or voluntary capacity) has:

- behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child
- possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child
- behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates they may pose a risk of harm to children

During the year the LADO has continued to raise awareness of employers to the potential risks posed by those they may employ and to understand their responsibilities in respect of safer recruitment and the procedures they should have in place for handling allegations against staff. Through their contribution to inter-agency training and the facilitation of a LSCB workshop, the LADO helped managers clarify the distinction between an allegation, a concern about the quality of care/practice and more general complaint.

The dissemination of such learning has helped implement changes Government guidance (as outlined in Working Together 2015 and 'Keeping Children Safe in Education', updated in 2015) and that partners share concerns without delay and in a coordinated manner.

During 2013/14 the LADO identified a number of areas (highlighted below) in which they have since facilitated the following areas of improvement:

- To ensure all partner agencies have procedures in place to manage allegations.

The LSCB's S11 audit tool has been updated to include a question about allegations and safer recruitment and is now being used to ensure a better understanding / overview of how this is understood and managed by organisations.

- For the LADO to continue to contribute to training of managing allegations and to promote awareness of procedures for managing allegations with partner agencies.

The LADO has worked with the LSCB to deliver Safer Recruitment Training and to establish a new course which will also combine a focus on managing allegations.

- For the LADO service to continue to strengthen links with key LSCB partner agencies and private sector employers and organisations to ensure there is a continued awareness about the thresholds and process for managing allegations.

Work continued during the year to strengthen links with partner agencies and the LADO met with the Licencing team, school transport coordinator, independent providers, safeguarding leads for sports groups, the Chair of the CSE operational group and the Adult Safeguarding Manager. The LADO and their deputy have also attended the schools designated leads meeting and a GP training event.

- For the Berkshire LSCB procedures to be revised in line with the London LSCB procedures and to agree criteria and outcome categories for managing all allegations.

During the year work was completed to address the above recommendation and has been forwarded to the Pan Berkshire Policy and Procedures Sub Group for approval.

Complaints Report

Children's Social Care Complaints Services performs an important role in assuring the quality of response to children and young people, or parents and carers who make complaints. LSCB oversight of this work helps ensure continuing development and review of the service and learning for all partner agencies. In addition to reporting to members of the Board, the Complaints Manager has regular meetings with senior managers in Children's Social Care, and provides training for new Social Workers on the complaints process. Findings from complaints are considered in the development of policies and procedures and help ensure an ongoing culture of learning.

Out of the total of 47 complaints that were received during the year, 15 complaints were deferred / declined, 11 were investigated under statutory procedures and 21 were investigated under the Council's corporate procedures. As a result 32 of the 47 complaints received were investigated.

The nature of these complaints included concerns about:

- Assessments / investigations
- Communication
- Staff decisions / conduct
- Standard of service
- Eligibility criteria

While reports to the LSCB enabled scrutiny of such complaints, the Board also noted the positive feedback received such as that from one parent who stated “Your outstanding Social Worker helped me move out of a bad situation and has improved me and my daughter’s lives. I can’t thank you enough”.

There were 181 such compliments recorded during the year which is an increase on the previous year where only 91 compliments were recorded. The compliments covered both Children’s Social Care activity and activity within Strategy, Resources and Early Intervention services. The comments recorded came from range of individuals who had contact with the Council, either as service users or professionals with 3.9 compliments being received for every 1 complaint.

Children/Young People at risk of Radicalisation

Throughout the year the LSCB has disseminated information to partners about the importance of early identification of children at possible risk of becoming radicalised. Practical work continues via the Boroughs Community Safety Partnership to raise awareness within schools and colleges and at a strategic level to monitor levels of risk and work with the LSCB to raise awareness of the proposed new duties contained within the Counter-Terrorism and Security Bill.

In conclusion, preventing the above factors impacting on children within the Borough will continue to be strengthened through the strong partnerships and early help developed by the Board.

The LSCB will seek to continue to improve its oversight of core safeguarding processes such as assessment, planning and intervention within the context of inter-agency collaboration.

Throughout the year the LSCB was made aware of partner contribution to these processes and was able to challenge issues such as agency attendance at Strategy Meetings, Child Protection Conferences and Core Groups where necessary. The improved analysis of these core functions also provides the LSCB with important data in respect of parental factors and circumstances that lead to abuse and neglect. As a result these inform other strategies such as the work undertaken in regard to early help discussed previously in this report.

Strengthening a ‘Signs of Safety’ ethos within Child Protection Conferencing has been a focus in 2014/15 and will be fully launched by September 2015.

Through improved feed back from children/young people and their families/carers the Board’s is better informed of the impact services are having and this feedback is underpinned by the efforts made to promote participation at all stages of these processes, including that provided by staff themselves who embraced improvements to improve their reporting.

Improving the data and information provided by partner agencies continues to help the LSCB analyse areas in which it requires professionals to consider the current effectiveness of their interventions and to collaboratively consider innovative developments.

Information such as that below is routinely informing the LSCB's work and will continue to be refined during the coming year.

3.3 Financial Information

The budget is monitored by the Business Manager and reports are provided to the LSCB. The majority of the budget is spent on staffing to support the work of the Board.

The LSCB budget 2014-2015 was made up of contributions from the Local Authority, the CCG, Police, Probation, Broadmoor, CAFCASS and Berkshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust.

Supplies and services include expenditure for the cost of an Independent Chair, updates to the Child Protection Procedures and the costs associated with administering the LSCB training programme and the annual conference. This also covers any printing costs for publicity materials and leaflets.

In addition a small amount is spent under to cover the hire of meeting rooms, refreshments and venues for LSCB activities and meetings.

The LSCB has discussed the lack of capacity within the pooled LSCB budget and the Chair has formally written to the Chief Executive of each statutory partner organisation to raise the concern that the current LSCB budget needs to increase as it has remained the same for the last 5 years and has requested a proportionate 22% increase in funding for 2016/17.

4. Summary

The strength of partnership working throughout this report is evident and many of the achievements of the last year could not have been made without the continued support and hard work of the LSCB and Forum members. However, it is clear that as pressures have increased on partner agencies it has become more difficult to secure the high levels of engagement required. As a result this area has become one in which the Chair has been required to make a number of challenges to ensure the Board remains effective.

Like partner agencies, the work of the LSCB has continued to increase in recent years and remains very broad. The support required to ensure that the LSCB operates effectively and can fully embrace its increased responsibilities, will in turn require sufficient resources that have yet to be secured. As a result this remains a central risk to the sustainability of the Board's work moving forward. Keeping children and young people safe remains a core function for the LSCB and although on occasions this aspiration is challenged our role is to ensure that their protection remains a priority and is "everybody's business". This report has highlighted areas of good practice undertaken by very committed professionals as well as areas requiring improvement and further development. As a result we continue to work to ensure that all those who come into contact with children and young people have the relevant knowledge, experience and support to enable them to fulfil their roles and responsibilities.

To become more effective we will also need to continually review, and evaluate the work that is done by, or on behalf of our partners and ensure we achieve a balance of appropriate support and robust challenge in order that all parts of our local system operate as effectively as each other.

Key Messages

Appendix D (Data report to be added)
