Key stage	Worldview	Question/Theme Th = Theology Ph = Philosophy HSS = Human and social science	Content in bold is intended to be CORE. The remainder is suggested content. NB this will probably need expanding with more detail as we go on.	Comments
EYFS 4s-5s	Christianity	Who is Jesus? What is the church? What do Christians celebrate? What do we learn from Christian stories?	Stories of Jesus – Nativity, Easter, incarnation Exploration of church life – worship and prayer Range of festivals – Christmas, Easter, Pentecost, Harvest, recognising that not all Christians celebrate the in the same way. Parables and narrative stories from Old and New Testaments	Great starting from the beginning. Clear foundation of knowledge.
	Worldviews – religious non-religious	Why are some people special? Why are some places special? Why are some times special? What can we learn from stories?	Stories of Abraham and Sarah, Moses, Prophet Muhammad and Khadijah, Guru Nanak, Bahá'u'lláh, Buddha, and contemporary examples Mandir, Mosque, Gurdwara, Temple, Vihara, Synagogue, and secular spaces; Planet earth and the environment Shabbat, Channukah, Holi, Diwali, Eid, Ramadhan, Vaisakhi, Wesak, and some secular festivals Choose suitable examples, probably including a range of creation stories and other tales with a moral.	Nice link to role models, shared experience.
	Worldviews – non-religious and Humanist	What do people think about the world?	The universe started at the Big Bang and as a result humans are made of star dust and so all are special. Looking at fossils, humans have worked out that all of life on earth has evolved. Some creatures like the dinosaurs have died out and others have changed over time.
KS1 5s-7s	Introductory unit (1 or 2 lessons)	What is religion and how do we find out about it?	This is the place to introduce disciplinary knowledge (theology, human and social science, and philosophy) and methodology: hermeneutics (textual interpretation), surveys, interviews, ethnographic study and analysis of data, thought experiments, debate, critical thinking and processes of reasoning. Establish the idea of Abrahamic and Dharmic religions.

(HSS)	Brahman and the Trimurti, Rama and Sita , Ganesha, Hanuman, Gurus and Rishis. Symbolism The role of the mandir in Hindu life, worship in the mandir and worship at home, Puja, Aarti Divali , Holi, Navaratri and the stories that accompany them	Happy to add in the information, if this is a format that will work
	Non-religious worldviews	What do Humanists believe? What do other non-religious people believe?	Humanists think the world is a natural place formed by natural forces and evolution - we ask questions and look at evidence to help us understand it. (Humanists don't believe in a god.) Humanists think we should be kind to other people, animals, and the planet. Humanists think we should be free to find what makes us happy . Humanists symbol is the Happy Human . What can we add about other non-religious worldviews at this point?
LKS2 7s-9s	Introductory unit (1 or 2 lessons)	What do people learn about beliefs from the way that people behave?	This is the place to introduce/revise disciplinary knowledge (theology, human and social science, and philosophy) and methodology: hermeneutics (textual interpretation), surveys, interviews, ethnographic study and analysis of data, thought experiments, debate, critical thinking and processes of reasoning . Choose a topic or a text (maybe one from the questions below) to frame an enquiry building on the disciplinary unit from KS1. This may be a good place to explore the similarities and differences in religious and non-religious practice.
	Christianity	Who do Christians believe Jesus is? (Th)	Trinity, Son of God , Messiah, Saviour, Nativity, Prophecies	Nice to see the scholarship. Would

		How did Jesus teach his followers to show friendship? (Th, HSS) What are the key messages of Easter? (TH, HSS, PH) What difference does Pentecost make? 	Humanism	How do Humanists try to live good lives?	Humans evolved naturally and have many abilities. If put them to good use, people can lead good and happy lives, for themselves and for others. They celebrate positive

			human achievements but recognise the many challenges ahead. Human beings alone are responsible for making the world a better place. Humanists campaign for equality and human rights, and to protect the environment. Humanists think this is the one life people have and they need to make it a good life. People are free to choose how to live (but not harm others) seeking happiness and helping others to do achieve happiness. Humanists consider the consequences of their actions and the likely impact on other people and animals and the world. Morality and ethics are not absolute (they're human, not god-given) and always context-dependent. They use empathy and treat other people kindly and fairly and apply the Golden Rule.
KS3 11s-14s	Generic introductory unit (1 or 2 lessons)	What is meant by secular, atheist, and agnostic?	This is the place to introduce disciplinary knowledge (theology, human and social science, and philosophy) and methodology: hermeneutics (textual interpretation), surveys, interviews, ethnographic study and analysis of data, thought experiments, debate, critical thinking and processes of reasoning. Definitions of Secular, atheist and agnostic and the recognition that humanists can be any one or more of those, There are different types of non-religious belief of which humanism is one. Explore a range of philosophers who have explored these ideas, how they have interpreted them and lived them out.
	Christianity (select questions for a 2-year KS3) See P&E for further questions	How and why did Christianity become a global religion? (Th, HSS)	Story of Pentecost and the birth of the church. The role of evangelism, and the Holy Spirit. Examine the role of preaching and teaching, and prayer. Acts 10, and the story of the Good Samaritan as well as other stories about Samaritans and outcasts. Diversity within tradition, e.g.

		Does following the teachings of the Christian church affect a person’s lifestyle? (Th, HSS, Ph) What do Christians believe about the Jesus as Messiah and why are there so many different interpretations? (Th, Ph) Can you be a scientist and Christian, and if so, how? (Ph, Th)	liberation theology and other modern examples. Christianity as a global, diverse and living tradition. Explore issues of Christian Lifestyle, e.g., employment choices, values, human relationships, marriage and cohabitation, gender identity and the fact that these are contested. Explore Biblical teaching and interpretation. Messiah, Saviour, OT prophecies, Different models of atonement, Final judgement, heaven and hell, Revelation and reason. Different interpretations, The perceived conflict between science and religion, particularly the question around creation, but also the reliability of the Biblical text with reference to sickness and miracles. Darwin et al
11	Buddhism	Who is the Buddha and why do people follow him? How does following the teachings of the Buddha impact on different Buddhists? (Th, Ph, HSS) How and why did Buddhism become a global religion? (HSS)	Life of the Buddha Explore lifestyle issues, e.g., employment choices, values, human relationships, marriage and cohabitation, gender identity. Refer to the Five Precepts and Noble Eightfold Path, Three Poisons Diversity within tradition, Nicheren, Theravada, Mahayana, Pure Land, Zen Buddhism etc Bodhisattvas, Arhats, Dalai Lama
	Humanism	How do Humanist beliefs impact on the way the people live? (Th, HSS)	Humanists share their moral outlook with many world religions, but consider morality and ethics as human not God-given, ideas. There is no concept of heaven and hell. Justice is for human agencies to administer in this world. Humanists obey just laws of the country they live in and campaign to change unjust laws. They campaign against privileges of religions in parliament, education, etc., which impact other people.	In this we need to identify what is CORE

		Which people have most influenced Humanists and how?	Many Humanists mark major life events with ceremonies. The format is chosen by the participants, and the content focuses on their lives. Baby naming celebrates a new human life, marriage is a celebration of two people entering a public partnership; funerals celebrate the achievements of the deceased. Celebrants are trained and accredited. Humanists train non-religious pastoral carers for the armed forces, hospitals, prisons etc. Humanism supports people leaving controlling religions or cults, including those cast out by families. In the early sixties Humanism ran a Humanist Housing Association, and an Adoption Agency, to address religious discrimination. They campaigned successfully with parliamentarians for LGBTQ rights achieving the law that legalized consensual sex between adult men, previously a serious crime. Humanist ideas have been around for well over 2000 years, notably in India, China, Greece. Democritus thought the world we know is all there is, and it works naturally without any prior plan, and thus was remarkably close to some ideas of modern science and Humanism. Roman Stoic philosopher Seneca (2BCE-65CE) wrote, "Religion is recognised by the common people as true, by the wise as false, and by the rulers as useful," and said, "The time to live is now," something believed by humanists today. Thomas Paine, though a theist, wrote "My country is the world; my religion is to do good." David Hume was sceptical about reports of miracles: "A wise man proportions his belief to the evidence" and should "always reject the greater miracle."
--	--	---	--	--

			Charles Darwin's Origin of Species. Published in 1859, described evolution by natural selection. Many people became agnostics when they realised that there was no need for a god to have created the earth and all life forms in six days. Mary Ann Evans / George Eliot translated Feuerbach's The Essence of Christianity (1854), suggesting that religion was "the dream of the human mind", projecting onto an illusory god our own ideals and nature. She herself was agnostic. Britain's first openly atheist MP, Charles Bradlaugh, was elected in 1880. He was denied his seat until 1888 when his Oaths Act enabled non-religious affirmations as an alternative to religious oaths.
	Islam	How and why did Islam become a global religion? (Th, HSS) How does following Islamic teaching impact on different Muslims?	Spread of Islam, Islamic Scholarship, diversity within Islam, Schools of thought, Medieval 'Crusades', Explore lifestyle issues, e.g., employment choices, values, human relationships, marriage and cohabitation, gender identity. Qur'an and Hadith, Sharia, Jihad (lesser and greater)
	Ethical and Philosophical (Must include Christianity, but can bring in a range of religious tradition too including Baha'I, Zoroastrian, Rastafari etc.)	How do people make sense of suffering? (Ph) Do 'Good' and 'Evil' really exist? (Ph) Is there a God and does it matter? (Th, Ph) What do we mean by a just and fair world and who decides? Th, Ph, HSS)	Problem of suffering Definitions of good and evil Existence of God Justice and fairness

	Pupil choice? Research?
KS5			Suggestions please!

Notes:

The key feature of the primary phase is that by the end of KS2 pupils need to have encountered, in addition to Christianity, Judaism, Hindu Dharma, Islam and Sikhi. An all through primary school MAY choose to deliver religious traditions in a different order, but to ensure balance and progression, infant, junior and first schools are required to cover the religions in the order suggested. We know that this means that not every pupil will see themselves represented in every year group. I don't think there is an alternative. We could consider switching Islam and Judaism between KS1 and LKS2.

Schools may consider using RE days to bring in traditions not included in the syllabus, using similar questions and ideas.

I know that every religious tradition would like to have a fair share of the pie, but if we bear in mind that we are teaching pupils how to ask questions about religions and worldviews, we are equipping them with the skills and knowledge to research other religions as required. Perhaps other traditions can be included in the generic units?

Please also note – this is a working document and NOT what the finished product will look like!
