The screenshot displays the website's interface. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation links. Below this is an interactive map showing council boundaries. A sidebar on the right allows users to toggle layers for 'Ward boundaries', 'Parish boundaries', and 'Ward names'. The main content area features a 'Select a Consultation to start' section with a search bar and a 'Welcome to our c...' section with a map of England. A prominent blue banner for 'Cornwall Council Electoral Review' is visible. Below the banner, there is a 'Tell us what you think' section with a list of questions and a 'Your opinion matters' section with contact information and a QR code.

- Get involved.
- Help shape your council for the long term.
- Help us make it a transparent & consultative process.
- Help influence & encourage.

Local knowledge is invaluable to this process.

Effective Representations

11

What we want:

- Rationale not assertion.
- What you DO & don't like.
- Alternatives.
- Practical community examples.
- Consideration of all 3 statutory criteria.

We cannot consider:

- Political consequences.
- "It ain't broke don't fix it" arguments.
- Parliamentary boundaries.
- Postcodes or addresses.
- House prices & insurance.

Making a submission

The
Local Government
Boundary Commission for England

“The two Parish Councils here are in the final stages of producing a joint Kibworths Neighbourhood Plan. It is therefore logical that the new proposed name covering these two parishes reflects the community going forward, i.e. Kibworths ward”

– Kibworth Harcourt Parish Council

“They go to different secondary schools, have different community centres and focal points, have different bus routes, different youth clubs, different parks – so there is a real north/south split reflected in strong community identities”

- Yate Town Council

There are currently 80 seats to be covered by 48 non-executive members which works out at 1.6 seats per councillor. If the size of the council in future was set at 43, this would leave 35 non-executive members. If the number of seats on non-executive committees were reduced as shown, it would still work out at a ratio of 1.6 seats per councillor. This demonstrates that governance arrangements could be accommodated without creating a significant burden on a reduced membership.
