1.3 Definitions of Fraud

1.3.1 This policy is intended to be fully compliant with the Fraud Act 2006 and its definitions.

1.3.2 The Fraud Act 2006 came into effect in January 2007. The Act introduced a new general offence of Fraud which can be committed in a number of ways, the three main categories are:

1.3.2.1 Fraud by false representation; by dishonestly making a false representation with the intention to make a gain for yourself or another, or to cause loss to another or expose another to risk of loss. A representation is false if it is untrue or misleading, and the person making it knows that it is, or might be, untrue or misleading. An example of this would be an employee submitting a false expense claim form for payment.

1.3.2.2 Fraud by failing to disclose information; by dishonestly failing to disclose to another person information which you are under a legal duty to disclose and intends, by failing to disclose the information, to make a gain for themselves or another, or to cause loss to another or expose another to the risk of loss. An example of this would be an employee failing to disclose a criminal conviction that would affect their working practices.

1.3.2.3 Fraud by abuse of position; by occupying a position in which you are expected to safeguard, or not to act against, the financial interests of another person, and dishonestly abusing that position, intending, by means of the abuse of that position, to make a gain for themselves or another, or to cause loss to another or to expose another to a risk of loss. An example of this would be a carer who has access to a service user's bank account for the use of that service user's and the money for their own personal gain.

1.4 Council's Values

1.4.1 Three fundamental values underpin the Council's activities and these are:

1.4.1.1 Accountability; everything done by those that work at the Council must be able to withstand comprehensive scrutiny.

- 1.4.1.2 Probity; absolute honesty and integrity should be exercised in dealing with everyone that comes into contact with the Council.
- 1.4.1.3 Openness; the Council's activities should be sufficiently open and transparent to promote confidence between the Council and all those that come into contact with it.

These values are key elements in tackling fraud, along with the principles set out in the Council's Codes of Conduct and Protocols.

1.5 Prevention

- 1.5.1 The Council has a zero tolerance to fraud and corruption. The Council's aim is to have sound financial systems and procedures which incorporate efficient and effective internal controls. For instance, segregation of duties is considered a fundamental control in financial systems. The Council is responsible for maintaining effective internal controls which include the prevention of fraud and other illegal acts.
- 1.5.2 Each Directorate has a responsibility to ensure that its own system of controls secure probity and identify, prevent and deter the extent of fraud and corruption. An effective system of internal controls includes, but is not limited to:
 - 1.5.2.1 Adequate segregation of duties;
 - 1.5.2.2 An up to date schedule of delegations;
 - 1.5.2.3 Authorisation and approval procedures;
 - 1.5.2.4 Adequate physical security over assets;
 - 1.5.2.5 Reliable monitoring and reporting arrangements.
 - 1.5.2.6 Declarations of interest; and
 - 1.5.2.7 Gifts and hospitality registers

1.6 Raising Fraud Awareness

The Council recognises that the success and credibility of its Fraud Prevention Policy will depend largely on how effectively it is communicated throughout the Council and beyond. Every opportunity will be taken to bring it to the attention of employees, and all others that come into contact with the Council. To further develop an anti-fraud culture, the Council will:

- 1.6.1 develop and maintain effective controls to prevent fraud;
- 1.6.2 ensure that if fraud occurs a vigorous and prompt investigation takes place without regard to position held or length of service;

- 1.6.3 take appropriate disciplinary and legal action in all cases, where justified; and review systems and procedures to prevent similar frauds;
- 1.6.4 provide its employees, and other associated persons, where relevant, with training on the risks posed by fraud and bribery and the Council's procedures in tackling fraud to maintain a zero tolerance approach to fraud and bribery;
- 1.6.5 review this policy document regularly and undertake a fraud risk assessment of the Council's activities;
- 1.6.6 maintain and review the hospitality register.

2 FRAUD RISK MANAGEMENT

2.1 Principle

Managers are responsible for having adequate processes in place to identify where fraud may be perpetrated and putting in place effective controls to minimise the risk of such fraud from arising. Each directorate will be asked to identify its key fraud risks and controls to address those risks and document these in fraud risk logs.

2.2 Procedure

The fraud risk logs will enable the Council to:

- 2.2.1 Monitor "at risk" areas susceptible to fraud and focus resources available for fraud preventative and detection on these areas;
- 2.2.2 Communicate with "at risk" areas; and
- 2.2.3 Undertake appropriate due diligence of third parties and associated persons.

3 REVIEW OF INTERNAL PROCESSES AND CONTROLS

3.1 The Accountant's Group will provide a strategic overview of fraud risks and fraud prevention by:

- 3.1.1 Periodically reviewing the Council's Fraud Prevention Plan for relevance and accuracy before this goes to the Corporate Management Team and the Governance and Audit Committee for approval ;
