Dear Mr Koc

I have received an email from my colleague Niamh who has advised that you are currently self-isolating. I hope that you are well and keeping safe.

I am currently in the process of collating objections received to your recent variation application unfortunately because objections have been received there will be the need to hold a panel hearing. This will be made up by members drawn from the Licensing and Safety Committee and notification of when and how this will take place will be confirmed in due course.

If you do not feel that you will be in a position to participate in the panel hearing and wish to nominate a point of contact to cover this for you please can you let me have this persons details. I will then be able to make contact and put the necessary measures in place to enable me to do this for you.

The as applicant of this variation I will send you the relevant objections once I have collated them.

If you would like to discuss or have any queries please do not hesitate to contact me on the number provided.

Yours sincerely

Amanda
