- (Note 1) In evaluating whether uncorrected misstatements are material, we also evaluate the misstatements in relation to the specific accounts and disclosures involved.
- (Note 2) When appropriate for the entity's circumstances, we may not need to distinguish the effect on assets and liabilities between current and non-current (e.g., a non-classified balance sheet).
- (Note 3) Not all the prior period's judgmental misstatements turnaround in the current period. When experience in the current period shows that management's estimate in the prior period was correct and ours was not, we do not include those misstatements in the turnaround effect of prior period uncorrected misstatements.
