THE HUMAN RIGHTS ACT 1998

The Human Rights Act 1998 (“the HRA”) makes it unlawful for a public authority to act in a way that is incompatible with the rights set out in the European Convention of Human Rights.

Those rights include:-

Article 8 – “Everyone has the right to respect for his private and family life, his home.....”

Article 1 - First Protocol “Every natural or legal person is entitled to the peaceful enjoyment of his possessions”.

In some circumstances a local authority may be under an obligation to take positive action to protect an individuals interests under Article 8.

The relevant Convention Rights are not absolute. A Council may take action even though it interferes with private and family life, home and enjoyment of possessions, if it is for a legitimate purpose, necessary and proportionate. In effect a balancing exercise has to be conducted between the interests of the individual and the wider public interest.

Such a test very largely replicates the balancing exercise which the Council conducts under domestic planning legislation.

The provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998 have been taken into account in the preparation of the reports contained in this agenda.

The Human Rights Act will not be specifically referred to elsewhere [in the Agenda] beyond this general statement, unless there are exceptional circumstances which require a more detailed consideration of any Convention Rights affected.
