Children's Social Care/Social Work Teams The number of cases subject to an initial assessment will increase from December 2009 following the publication of the revised post-Laming 'Working Together'. The revised report requires all referrals from professionals to have an initial assessment. A proportion of these cases will then require allocation into teams where caseloads are already high. There has also been recent increases in the number of looked after children, including those disabled children in receipt of short break care. Therefore additional resources are required to manage this increased workload.	100
